NIGHT EDITION BOARD OF HEALTH

Went on a Tour of Inspection This Forenoon

The board of health went out this forenoon to look over the little brook that runs under the railroad tracks to the foot of State street and from there to the Concord river. The Bunting company was in the habit of washing its wool in the brook and it was complained of as a nuisance. The board notified the company relative to the complaints. Later the board visited the premises and everything seemed all right. Another complaint, however, has been lodged and the board accompanied by Agent Bates went out to investigate today.

Contagious Diseases

Once in a while figures will get mixed and when mixed they don't tell the truth. It was stated in these columns yesterday that the board of health had 32 cases of diphtheria under observation. That was the number for a given period but at present there are but nine cases. With only 9 cases of diphtheria, 27 cases of scarlet fever and 35 cases of measles in a city of 100,000 population, the board of health feels that Lowell has no reason to complain.

Water in Milk

Now that the inspector of milk has been supplied with a bacteriological apparatus for the examination of milk for bacteria, he ought to be supplied with a refractometer to determine the low refractive index of the milk. In order to prove that water has been added to milk it is necessary to use a refractometer. The instrument costs about $100. The inspector quite often runs up against milk that he feels has been watered, but he can't prove it in police court, because he hasn't a refractometer and the best he can do is to charge the offender with selling milk that was not up to the standard. Now this means a fine of $10 or $15, whereas if it were shown that the milk had been watered the fine would be in the vicinity of $50. This is the time of year that the inspector feels that it is necessary to be more than ordinarily cautious and he is averaging for examination anywhere from 20 to 50 samples of milk a day. This is the time of year when milk falls short. The hot weather drives the cows to shelter, they don't eat as much and are bothered by flies. If the farmer were at all disposed to increase the supply of milk from the pump this is the time of year that he would try it, as the milk supply usually drops off about one-fifth. Last year, because of the drought, it took a terrific drop. There wasn't any sign of a drop this year until within the last few days.

GLOVER MURDER WELCOMED HOME

Mrs. Glover, Lawyers and Four Others Secretly Indicted

Charged With Being Accessories With Hattie Leblanc in Aiding Her to Evade Arrest and to Escape Punishment—Lawyers Elmore and Tupper, Sister and Brother of Mrs. Glover and Two Others

CAMBRIDGE, June 23.—The government sprang a sensation today in its investigation of the murder last November of Clarence F. Glover, the Waltham laundryman, by placing on trial as accessories after the fact the widow, Mrs. Lillian M. Glover; her counsel, Samuel D. Elmore and Alton F. Tupper; her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Seymour S. Glover, and two friends, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Freeman. Glover was shot in his laundry, and before he died he charged Hattie Leblanc, a domestic, with the crime. Miss Leblanc was not found until three days later and the seven defendants in the trial today are charged with concealing her with intent to enable her to evade arrest, trial and punishment. After Miss Leblanc's arrest and indictment for murder there came a long hearing in the probate court over the will, which left the most of the property to the widow and Seymour Glover. Four other brothers of the murdered man were the contestants. This hearing centered about Mrs. Glover and came very close to being an investigation into the crime. The district attorney laid the evidence before the June grand jury which returned secret indictments last week. Mrs. Glover, cold and stern, was the first to plead. Her two lawyers, Messrs. Elmore and Tupper, were also unshaken, but the Seymour Glovers and the Freemans were visibly agitated. Mrs. Freeman being almost in a state of collapse.

Secretly had they answered to their names and entered their pleas of not guilty to the long indictment when District Attorney Higgins moved for an immediate trial. Prominent lawyers were rushed over from Boston, including Gen. Charles W. Bartlett, and every effort was made to postpone action. The district attorney was firm, however, and the court upheld him.

It took but a few minutes to select a jury, with Dudley L. Page of Lowell as foreman, and all twelve men were hustled into automobiles and whirled out to Waltham. There the laundry where the shooting took place and the Glover home were thoroughly inspected. Shortly after noon the jury returned, ready to hear the evidence.

In the Court

Charged with assisting Hattie Leblanc who is now awaiting trial on the charge of murdering Clarence Glover, a Waltham laundryman, and with being accessories after the fact with the French girl in the crime, Mrs. Lillian Glover and six others appeared in the Middlesex county superior criminal court here today to answer to secret indictments returned by the June Middlesex county grand jury. Besides Mrs. Glover those summoned to appear in court were Samuel Elmore and Alton F. Tupper, Mrs. Glover's counsel in the famous Glover will case, Mr. and Mrs. Seymour S. Glover, Seymour Glover was a brother of the murdered laundryman and a beneficiary under the will. Clarence Glover was shot in his laundry in Waltham on the night of November 29 last. Shortly before he died in a Waltham hospital Glover gave out a statement in which he said that he and Hattie Leblanc went to the laundry and that while there she shot him with a revolver. The police attempted to locate Hattie but were not successful until several days after Glover died when they found her sequestered under a bed in the Glover house. Hattie was arrested and indicted on a murder charge and is now in jail here awaiting trial. She has stoutly denied any connection with the crime.

Reception to Rev. Fr. Nolan, O. M. I., Last Evening

By Parishioners of Immaculate Conception Church—Fr. Nolan Presented a Beautiful Set of Breviaries—Large Attendance at Reception

Rev. George I. Nolan, O. M. I., the popular pastor of the Immaculate Conception church who has been in the south on a mission tour for the past six weeks, returned to Lowell this week and was tendered a welcome home by his parishioners last night at the Immaculate Conception church. He expressed the hope that he might be able to show the people how he appreciated their consideration for him. There was another selection by the orchestra and then a selection by the Belvedere quartet, consisting of Messrs. Shea, Gookin, Dalton and Courtney. The other numbers were songs by Miss May Whiteley and readings by John X. Payne.

At the conclusion of the program an informal reception was held in the hall and all present went forth to offer their personal greeting to their returning pastor.

The evening's program was in charge of Mr. Payne. Yesterday afternoon the children of the parish tendered a reception to the pastor and it proved a most hearty one.

Mr. F. B. Leeds, 5 Bridge street, will conduct a party to the White Mountain division of the Boston & Maine R. R. to Bethlehem, stopping at the Sinclair house, the largest hotel in the place; there will be a carriage ride to the Profile house and Plume. The party will be by way of the Crawford Notch, North Conway (this will be a fine way of enjoying a same day) arriving home late in the afternoon of the 4th.

ALUMNAE PICNIC
AT NOTRE DAME GROUNDS IN TYNGSBORO

The spacious grounds surrounding the Nance O'Neil estate in Tyngsboro were the scene of a very delightful picnic today. The estate is now the property of the Sisters of Notre Dame and the sisters had as their guests today the Notre Dame academy alumnae. The picnicers left Merrimack square at 10 o'clock this forenoon and remained until evening. They were delighted with the house and its surroundings.

Reverend and Dear Fr. Nolan: It was with feelings of genuine regret that we listened some weeks ago to the announcement of your departure from our midst. Though the separation from your beloved flock was destined to be only a brief one, permit us to assure you that we felt it keenly. During the time that has elapsed since you assumed direction of this parish, you have won the way to our hearts by your kindness, your sympathy, but particularly by your zeal and devotion to duty.

And so your absence from us, even for a short period, could not but cause us regret and disappointment. As day after day passed by we anxiously looked forward to the time when you would once more be back among us. But tonight our hopes and expectations are realized. We have assembled here this evening to welcome you back to our midst. We ask you not to judge of the extent of your welcome by this little program which we have prepared in your honor.

We have not attempted to prepare anything elaborate. But you will find your welcome in the outpouring of the hearts of your own loyal, loving and devoted people. To the heart of the true pastor no joy can be compared to the joy he experiences from the simple loyalty and devotion of his beloved parishioners.

Such, Reverend Father, is the welcome we extend to you this evening. We have heard of the splendid work you have accomplished in the city of San Antonio. We rejoice that God has blessed your labors so abundantly and we congratulate you on the remarkable success of your mission.

And it is our earnest prayer that God may keep you with us for many years to come, to continue the good work which you have thus far so nobly carried on.

Now, Reverend Father, be pleased to accept this set of breviaries as a slight token of the esteem in which you are held by the parishioners of the Immaculate Conception church.

Fr. Nolan was completely and genuinely surprised, and as he received the gift he was greeted with prolonged and deafening applause which gave him an opportunity to recover his composure. He expressed his thanks in well chosen words and stated that

IN POLICE COURT

Hot Session With Long Drawn Out Cases

Apostolos Pappas, who on Monday was found guilty of assault and battery on Pierre Asenault, sentenced being deferred until today, was arraigned before Judge Hadley in police court this morning on a complaint charging him with assault and battery on Ephrem Rondeau, aged 15 years.

Pappas was employed at the Merrimack mills up to a few weeks ago, when he and a number of other foreigners went on strike. Their positions were taken by boys and Rondeau was one of the youngsters who went to work in the mill.

According to Rondeau's testimony, he was going home from work with several other boys a week ago Wednesday noon. They were followed from the Merrimack mill up to the corner of Hall and Coolidge streets by seven or eight of the strikers. Rondeau claims that when he reached the corner of the street one of the strikers struck him and then Pappas kicked him in the back.

He said he was positive that Pappas was the man and said that he knew two of the other men by sight. After he was assaulted he was taken to the Lowell hospital.

Arthur Marcotte, Gagnon and two other witnesses corroborated the testimony offered by Rondeau.

Pappas' defense was similar to that offered in the assault and battery case hearing in court Monday. He claimed that he was not in the vicinity of Coolidge and Hall streets at the time of the alleged assault and knew nothing at all about it.

The court, after considering the evidence in the case, found Pappas guilty and ordered him to pay a fine of $20.

Another Strike Case

James Pappas, another striker at the Merrimack mills, was brought before the court on Monday charging him with threatening Peter Lynch and assault and battery on Leo DeGeorge. He was found guilty of threatening, and ordered to furnish $200 bonds to keep the peace for six months. The case of assault and battery was dismissed.

Man and Woman Reunited

Mr. Florence Sullivan and his wife, Catherine, of Dracut, who have been living apart for the last year were reunited in police court this morning. Mrs. Sullivan had her husband brought before the court on a charge of non-support. The case proved to be rather long drawn out affair and during the course of the testimony it was brought out that both the complainant and defendant had had children by previous marriages. One of the chief reasons for the estrangement was due to Mr. Sullivan's objection to his step-daughter and two of his step-sons living in the house. Judge Hadley decided that owing to the advanced age of the couple the best thing to do was to have them forget their grievances and live together. With the assistance of Lawyer W. A. Hogan, who appeared for Mr. Sullivan and J. Joseph Hennessy, who represented the woman, terms of peace were made and Mr. Sullivan got back to live with his wife on condition that the latter's daughter by her first marriage will leave the house.

Case Continued

George Boisvert was charged with assault and battery on Georgianna Lafortune, but he denied the allegation and during the course of his testimony said many things about the complainant which would not look well in print. The complainant testified that she lives in the same building as the defendant and that the day before yesterday Boisvert stole her dog and when she went to get it he struck her and knocked her down. Her testimony to a certain extent was corroborated by Mary Magee and Katherine Kearns, who said they were present.

Boisvert admitted that the woman's dog had followed him but that he did not want the dog and was minding his own business when the Lafortune woman grabbed him by the monstache and started to scratch his face. He said that it was his wife who knocked Mrs. Lafortune down.

Mrs. Boisvert said that she saw her husband and Mrs. Lafortune struggling in the yard and she separated them.

As much as there was something in the testimony offered which the court wanted to have investigated before passing judgment the case was continued till next Tuesday. Boisvert being allowed to go on his personal recognizance.

Had an Unlicensed Dog

Samuel Tibbets pleaded guilty to having an unlicensed dog in his possession. Owing to the fact that the woman had the canine licensed the morning the court, with the woman's permission, placed the matter on file.

Stole Whiskey

Germain Pinault walked into McDonald's saloon in Lakeview avenue last night and stole a pint and a half of whiskey. In court this morning he was charged with drunkenness and larceny and pleaded guilty to both complaints. He was fined $14 for stealing the liquor and $1 for drunkenness.

Drunken Offenders

James F. Maguire, charged with being drunk, was fined $5. There were three first offenders, who were fined $2 each.

ST. JOHN'S DAY

Great Canadian Feast Day Falls Tomorrow

Tomorrow, June 24, will be the feast of St. John the Baptist, the patron saint of Catholic Canada. Special religious services will be held in all the French Catholic churches, particularly at the church of St. Jean Baptiste, in Merrimack street. There will be no formal observance of the day, but many will celebrate at their homes and in honor of the day, L'Etelle, the French daily paper, will suspend publication.

If interested, we would be glad to have you inspect our diamonds; no other stock anywhere. Millard P. Wood, Jeweler, 164 Merrimack street, opposite John.

ST. JOSEPH'S COLLEGE

Held Annual Commencement Exercises Last Evening

The annual graduation exercises of St. Joseph's college took place last evening and were largely attended despite the excessively hot weather. The school orchestra played an overture, after which Rosalie Couillard delivered the address of welcome to the gathering. "Le Panier de Fleurs," a delightful little comedy, was next on the program, and was cleverly acted by Arthur St. Cyr, Eugene Cormier, Alfred Marion, Jean Bonville, Rodolphe Nault, Rodolphe Boucher, Donat Belanger, George Milot, Eugene Cloutier and Raoul Reeves. "La Lettre du Gabier," one of Botrel's sweetest songs, was next sung by Emery St. Cyr and Eucher Dupuis.

"Gavroche," a comedy, was the chief number on the program, and the young actors did themselves proud in its interpretation. The boys taking part were: Albert Gosselin, Charles Bourk, Pamphile Morin, Arthur Dubois, Eugene Gaudette, Calixte Lemire.

The distribution of diplomas and medals took place between the different numbers on the program, greatly expediting matters. At the close of the evening Rev. Fr. Watelle, O. M. I., superior of St. Joseph's parish, who was present with several other members of the clergy, congratulated the pupils and also their instructors, the reverend Marist brothers, for the excellent success achieved by the school during the year.

The graduates receiving their certificates of admission to the high school were the following:

Ernest Gaudette, Eucher Turcotte, Lucien Blais, Richard Daigle, Maurice Tourangeau, Hector Asselin, Eugene Mailoux, Emile Lapointe, Joseph Chénelle, Maxime Labrecque, Alphonse Pilon, Joseph Gagne, Raoul Blais, Arthur Marchand, Rosalie Couillard, Leo Ricard, Wilfrid Bourdon, Alexandre Renaud.

Four pupils receiving an additional diploma from the archdiocese of Boston were Ernest Gaudette, Eucher Turcotte, Lucien Blais, Richard Daigle.

Four boys completed the two years' commercial course and received diplomas. They were Charles E. Bourk, Pamphile Morin, Eugene O. Gaudette, Arthur Dubois.

Five medals were awarded as follows: Gold medal for education, offered by Rev. Fr. Watelle, Arthur Dubois; silver medal, offered by Frank Ricard, Pamphile Morin; gold medal, offered by Albert Ducharme, Eucher Turcotte; silver medal, offered by Thomas J. Goyette, Eugene Gaudette; bronze medal, offered by Ludger Gravel, Montreal, Charles E. Bourk.

Other prizes, consisting principally of beautifully bound and illustrated books, were also awarded. They were:

POLICE OFFICER

Severely Burned and May Die

BOSTON, June 23.—William E. Connolly, patrolman of the West Roxbury district for the Edison company, was so severely burned by electricity yesterday afternoon that he is expected to die. He is at the Faulkner hospital.

Connolly's fellow-workmen think that he overcame him. He had climbed a 25-foot pole on Centre street and fell from the top of the pole and was making his way among the wires with his arms above his head when there was a loud report followed by a blinding flash.

A fellow-employee raced in an automobile to the nearest spot where he could get word to the power house to shut off the current, and George H. Weston, opposite whose house the accident occurred, turned in a fire alarm. For three or four minutes the odor of burning flesh pervaded the neighborhood, and then the current was shut off.

Ladder 25 arrived very soon after a record run from his house at Bellevue street, and Dr. W. W. Howell of 1921 Centre street was also early on the scene. Capt. McLaughlin's men raised a ladder and, after slipping a rope around the prostrate body, lowered it to the street. The flesh was burned to the bone on the back, shoulders and thighs.

TENDER FOR GOVERNOR

HARTFORD, Pa., June 23.—The republican state convention held here yesterday, nominated without opposition, the following ticket:

Governor—Congressman John K. Tener of Washington county.

Lieutenant governor—Congressman John A. Reynolds of Bedford county.

Secretary of institutional affairs—Henry Houck of Lebanon county, the present incumbent.

State treasurer—Charles F. Wright of Susquehanna county, who was recently appointed by Gov. Stuart to fill the vacancy in that office.

The platform commends both the national and state administrations. The recently enacted tariff bill is endorsed as being in accordance with the republican policy expressed in its last national platform.

"No increase in the price of the common necessities of life can honestly be attributed to the tariff for the duties upon them were not raised," says the platform.

It was probably the briefest and most harmonious convention in the history of the party in this state. Only one candidate was named for each office and the platform as presented was adopted without any change. One hour and fourteen minutes elapsed from the opening of the convention until it adjourned.

SEEKS RELEASE

Singer Was Sued for $10,000

BOSTON, June 23.—Karl de Mel, who represents himself as an opera singer, was before Judge Fessenden in the superior court yesterday, seeking his release from an arrest on mesne process in a $10,000 civil suit brought against him by Charlotte Lila Moore of this city. The daughter of Dr. Ira L. Moore, formerly of Somerville, or a reduction of the $10,000 required by the suit for his release.

De Mel was arrested Saturday on the ground that he intended to leave the state and would not be here to answer in case Miss Moore obtained judgment against him. Her suit is for the recovery of $7800, which she says she loaned to him.

He has a suit for $10,000 pending against her in Middlesex county for breach of contract to pay him $3000 a year so long as he remained unmarried or until he married any other woman than herself. He declares that when the contract was made, in August, 1907, she wished to marry him and have him continue his musical education in Europe, and that, after she had paid $1500 he refused to pay more and was unwilling to marry him, though he was willing to marry her.

Miss Moore claims she paid him $3900 before the contract was made and $1500 under the contract. Seeing De Mel at the Parker house last week, she informed her counsel of his presence here, with the result that the order for his arrest was obtained.

He had come from Washington, D. C. He claims Hamburg, N. Y., as his legal residence. Miss Moore and he became acquainted in California.

Judge Fessenden declined to interfere with the arrest, but took the question of bail under consideration. He decision will be announced today.

AT FULL SPEED

W. W. HILLIARD MADE A SUCCESSFUL FLIGHT

NEWBURYPORT, June 23.—William W. Hilliard of Boston remained in the air five minutes and a half last night and covered a distance estimated at five miles. This performance was a continuation of a series of successful flights made in the morning.

With a westerly wind of about four miles an hour, the Burgess biplane, which is jointly owned by Joseph C. Shoemaker of Bridgeton, N. J., and Mr. Hilliard, was hauled from the shed to the marsh at 7.10 o'clock. Mr. Hilliard immediately started the motor and after a few preliminary dashes up and down the course elevated his front control and went into the air.

These watching the test expected that the flight would be of short duration on account of the stiff breeze, but Mr. Hilliard kept on in the direction of Rowley, crossing the Plum Island river at a height of about 30 feet.

The pilot made as pretty a turn as he was going at full speed as could be desired. The turn took him over Pine Island in Newbury and across several small creeks. He skirted a grove of trees and barely escaped a telephone pole and wire, showing judgment as he navigated the craft.

Continuing the plucky aviator went between a couple of islands toward Little's farm in Newbury. Most of the time he was going against the wind, which at times came in puffs, and the way the machine was handled aroused the enthusiasm of the spectators.

Again Mr. Hilliard made a turn and headed for the starting point. Coming with the wind his speed equalled that of an express train. When close to the finishing line the pilot shut off his power and landed as easily and gently as a bird, not even bending a wire. He had made a circle and had averaged a height of 40 feet. Hilliard received many congratulations.

FOUGHT A DUEL

NEW YORK, June 23.—A thousand tired dwellers, who decided to try for a sleep last night on the grass of Battery park, watched with languid interest the antics of two men who danced about in the misty moonlight with outstretched arms. A better understanding came to them when two flashes and a bark of a revolver shot punctuated the silence. It was a duel.

An exciting man hunt followed in which 500 sleepers joined the police in running down Peter Habbe, and Melong Melion, two Syrians. Melion had a head wound on one hip and could not run. The other man was headed off. Both were held without bail, charged with assault.

Neighbors told the police there had been blood between the men and that a formal challenge had been issued and challenged.

BODY WASHED ASHORE

LONDON, June 23.—A Spanish sailor who was washed ashore at Penzance Tuesday, claims to be the only survivor of the Spanish steamer Febrero, from Bilbao, for Newport. The sailor says that the steamer foundered with her crew of 23 off Lands End, Monday night.

THOMAS F. RYAN

Not Candidate For U. S. Senator

NEW YORK, June 23.—Thomas F. Ryan, traction magnate and multimillionaire, departing yesterday for Europe on the Mauretania, declared that he had no further interest in politics, and denied the report that he was a candidate for United States senator from Virginia.

Mr. Ryan said:

"Concerning the report that I am on the verge of collapse from nervous prostration I may say that I have not had to consult my doctor for four and a half months and I sleep like a baby."

"I like my new life since I threw off the tyranny of details. While I keep myself very busy, yet I do not permit things either big or little, to worry me."

"Of all my business concerns, that which most interests me now is the Congo development. I expect to give it great deal of attention to it. It is not at all unlikely that I shall make a visit there."

"I am interested not only in the industrial development of the Congo— which country I am convinced affords the greatest opportunities now to be found in the world—but also in the moral and social conditions. The solution of the negro problem there is, perhaps, the one which deserves the greatest attention."

"As for politics, I have no further interest in them. I have never been a candidate for office, either by election or appointment. There is no truth in the report that I once a candidate to become United States senator from Virginia, to succeed Senator Daniel. I have never been accustomed to wait to step into dead men's shoes. I have long been a close personal friend of Senator Daniel and I hope that he will be spared for many years to serve his state and his country."

"I regret very much that I shall not see Mr. Morgan during the summer, as I am compelled to leave before he arrives. My interest in his activities continues to be keen."

"There are people who are asking who is to be the successor of Mr. Morgan. In my opinion there will be none. There has been only one Morgan, and there cannot be a second. Fortunately, there seems to be no reason to become alarmed on this point for years to come. As for the men to whom the interests of New York and the country must look in time of panic or peril in the next generation there is no occasion to go beyond the younger men now in sight. I have perfect confidence in them."

Mr. Ryan will return about the middle of October.

WOMAN'S TENNIS PLAY

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., June 23.—Close and hard of the eight matches, in all events rounded out the most successful day's play of the week in the women's national championship lawn tennis tournament on the courts of the Philadelphia Cricket club yesterday.

In the women's singles, doubles and mixed doubles, and semi-final rounds were reached.

In the singles, the particular honors went to Miss Louise Hammond, of New York and to Miss Edna Wilder, of Plainfield, N. J. Miss Hammond defeated Miss Carrie H. Neely, the Chicago champion.

The hardest fought match of the day was that between Miss Dorothy Green, Philadelphia's sole survivor in

Sour Stomach

Mi-o-na Puts the Stomach in Fine Shape in Five Minutes

If your stomach is continually kicking up disturbances, you feel bloated and distressed. If you belch gas and sour food into the mouth, then you need Mi-o-na Stomach Tablets, the best prescription for indigestion ever written.

Mi-o-na stomach tablets give instant relief, of course, but they do more; they drive out the poisons which cause fermentation of food and thoroughly clean, renovate and strengthen the stomach so that it can readily digest food without artificial aid.

Mi-o-na stomach tablets are guaranteed to cure indigestion, acute or chronic, or money back. This means that nervousness, dizziness and biliousness will disappear. Druggists everywhere and Carter & Sherburne sell Mi-o-na for 50c a large box. Test samples free from Booth's Mi-o-na, Buffalo, N. Y.

"I was under the care of four different doctors during nine months and was cured of dyspepsia by Mi-o-na."

A Storekeeper Says:

"A lady came into my store lately and said: 'I have been using a New Perfection Oil Cook-Stove all winter in my apartment. I want one now for my summer home. I think these oil stoves are wonderful. If only women knew what a comfort they are, they would all have one. I spoke about my stove to a lot of my friends, and they were astonished. They thought that there was small and smoke from an oil stove, and that it heated a room just like any other stove. I told them of my experience, and one after another they got one, and now, not one of them would give hers up for five times its cost.'"

The lady who said this had thought an oil stove was all right for quickly heating milk for a baby, or boiling a kettle of water, or to make coffee quickly in the morning, but she never dreamed of using it for difficult or heavy cooking. Now—she knows.

Do you really appreciate what a New Perfection Oil Cook-Stove means to you? No more coal to carry, no more coming to the dinner table so tired out that you can't eat. Just light a Perfection Stove and immediately the heat from an intense blue flame shoots up to the bottom of pot, kettle or oven. But the room isn't heated. There is no smoke, no smell, no outside heat, no drudgery in the kitchen where one of these stoves is used.

Cautionary Note: Be sure that the name-plate reads "New Perfection."

Standard Oil Company (Incorporated)

It has a Cabinet Top with a shelf for keeping plates and food hot. The nickel finish, with the bright blue of the chimneys, makes the stove ornamental and attractive. Made with 1, 2 and 3 burners; the 2 and 3-burner stoves can be had with or without Cabinet.

PRES. SCHURMAN

Delivered Closing Address at
Cornell on Goldwin Smith

ITHACA, N. Y., June 23.—The late Goldwin Smith, his work and his influence were taken by President Schurman today for the text of his annual address to the graduating class of Cornell University.

With the temperature in the nineties, thousands of senior week guests watched the Cornell seniors march to the armory this morning in cap and gown to receive their diplomas from the hands of President Jacob Gould Schurman. Degrees were conferred on 766 graduates. Pres. Schurman spoke as follows:

"The foundation of Goldwin Smith's political philosophy," said Dr. Schurman, "was the maxim he caused to be carved on the stone seat which he placed on the campus of Cornell University 'Above All Nations Is Humanity.' An Englishman by birth he was proud of the historic ideals and traditions and loyal to the genuine interests of England; but he sternly refused to identify those interests with ideals with territorial acquisitions, with selfish aggrandizement, with the subjugation and domination of weaker peoples in Asia and Africa, with unprovoked war against any of the nations of Europe and America, or with a reckless and bellicose diplomacy which makes it difficult to settle international disputes by peaceful methods or by friendly arbitration. It was the moral greatness of England that he persistently championed. And that moral greatness was, he felt, in essential harmony with the welfare of all mankind."

"This same spirit of world-citizenship enabled him to take a dispassionate view of public affairs in the United States and Canada where he spent the last half of his life. In full sympathy with the democracy of the New World, no man saw more keenly or exposed more clearly the narrow and local selfishness which lies in its bosom or the blunders and follies into which it may be betrayed by ignorance and passion. Yet democracy was his creed, and he made it his business as a writer to hold democracy up to its ideal—to lift it above the level of the lower forces from whose influence it can never wholly escape."

"While his heart beat for all mankind he cherished a special vision of the union in some form of the English speaking nations, particularly the union of Canada and the United States; and to the furtherance of this union he devoted much of his thought and energy. The particular form of union he projected between the United States and Canada may never be realized. The opening of the Canadian northwest in the twentieth century is a most potent factor in the development of Canadian nationality, and it came too late for him to praise its force. But that the two English speaking nations on this continent are destined to be drawn more closely together in the future will already appear pretty certain to any one who considers the implications of that British-American policy which we call the Monroe Doctrine and the significance of the emergence of powerful Asiatic nations confronting Canada and the United States on the other side of the Pacific with all the problems thence arising of intercourse and emigration, of trade and commerce, of political and religious action and reaction, of national and international prestige and recognition. Whether the national destiny may be, Canada has at all events the same international future as the United States; for the future of both is determined by their location on the American continent, the disconnection with the politics of Europe and the consequent political and military alignments of European nations, and their juxtaposition—with the Pacific uniting rather than separating them—to the hundreds of millions of Asiatics who are now developing into great and powerful nationalities just over the western horizon of California, British Columbia and Alaska."

"These mighty forces operating upon the two kindred American nations can scarcely fail to mould them to a common international destiny. And thus, in substance if not in form, Goldwin Smith's dream of continental union may be actually fulfilled. With it may also come—is it not already rapidly approaching?—the moral union of all the English speaking nations and their alliance, informal if not formal, for the purpose of maintaining the peace of the world and the settlement of international disputes by the arbitration of the Hague tribunal, which is at this moment settling for the United States and Great Britain their century old dispute over their respective rights in the North Atlantic fisheries. Let us at any rate cherish such uplifting visions and dreams."

MATRIMONIAL

Mr. George William Trott and Miss Mary Ellen Hansbury, both of this city, were married yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock at the parochial residence of the Immaculate Conception church. Rev. John O'Brien, O. M. L., performed the ceremony. Mr. Joseph Bridge of Pennsylvania, a cousin of the bride, was best man, and Miss Helen McNichole of Worcester was bridesmaid.

The bride wore silk mull, trimmed with Irish point lace, and carried white carnations. The bridesmaid wore silk tulle and carried pink carnations. Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride in Oak street, which was attended by immediate friends and relatives from out of town. Among those present were Mr. John E. Ainsworth of London, England, Mr. and Mrs. Budd of Lawrence, Miss Agatha Bridge of Pennsylvania and other friends from New York and Boston.

The wedding gifts were numerous and beautiful, and consisted of silver and cut glass and other articles. Mr. and Mrs. Trott left on an early evening train for an extended wedding tour along the coast to Pennsylvania. Upon their return they will make their home at 10 Oak street.

MCLEAN-WALMSLEY

Mr. George Elmer McLean and Miss Frances F. Walmsley, both of Lowell, were married by Rev. George F. Kennard at his home yesterday afternoon. They were unattended. Mr. and Mrs. McLean will live at Middlesex park.

SARGENT-MORRISON

Mr. Joseph L. Sargent of this city and Miss Mary A. Morrison of Newburyport were married Wednesday afternoon at the home of the bride's grandmother, Mrs. Mary C. Morrison, in Newburyport. Rev. Lawrence Hayward performed the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Sargent will make their home in Tacoma, Wash.

ALLEN-DUNLAVEY

Mr. William H. Allen and Miss Ellen T. Dunlavey were married yesterday afternoon at the parochial residence of St. Patrick's church by Rev. John J. McHugh. The bride was attended by Miss Helen T. Casey and Mr. William H. Sullivan was best man. After the ceremony a reception to the immediate family was held at the home of the bride in Butterfield street and later Mr. and Mrs. Allen left on a wedding trip.

FOSS-HART

A pretty home wedding took place yesterday afternoon when Mr. Jacob Foss and Miss Elizabeth A. Hart were united in marriage at the latter's residence, 16 Varney street. Rev. A. St. John Chambers, pastor of St. Anne's Episcopal church, performed the ceremony in the presence of the immediate family. Miss Carrie M. Hart, a sister of the bride, was maid of honor and Misses Edith and Elizabeth Hart, nieces, were flower girls. Mrs. J. W. Grady played the wedding march. Mr. and Mrs. Foss left on a wedding tour and will live at 16 Varney street on their return. They will be at home after Nov. 1.

REID-WILSON

Mr. James Reid and Mrs. Margaret Wilson were married yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock by Rev. George C. Wright, at his residence in Fairview street. Mr. John Reid, a brother of the bridegroom, was best man, and Miss Sadie Chalmers, a sister of the bride, was bridesmaid.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride, 23 Shaw street, at which were present immediate friends and relatives. Mr. and Mrs. Reid were the recipients of many beautiful and costly gifts. They left on an early evening train for an extended wedding tour, and after their return will make their home at 23 Shaw street.

Personally conducted excursion to the White Mountains July 2nd to 4th. See Leeds, 5 Bridge street.

JOSHUA HOLDEN

Billerica Politician Died in Boston Today

BOSTON, June 23.—Joshua B. Holden, for many years a familiar figure in Massachusetts politics, died suddenly of heart failure at the Hotel Somerset early today. He had been in poor health for some time. He was 60 years of age and a native of Woburn. During his business career Mr. Holden had extensive real estate interests in Boston and Lowell and other places in Middlesex county. Mr. Holden had served in the state senate and was a member of the Charles river basin commission at the time of his death. He is survived by a family.

Mrs. Holden was Miss Ada L. Moulton, daughter of former Senator John Moulton of Laconia, N. H.

THEATRE VOYONS

The governments of the Central American republics give a little and in "A Central American Romance" shown today at the Theatre Voyons this sort of a squabble is well brought out. In this picture a detachment of sailors from the United States Battleship "South Carolina" appear and rescue an American seaman from a Japanese. There is a pleasing love story told by the picture and the staging is correct in every detail, it having been taken in one of the southern republics. "The Beggar Boy" is a Japanese picture of more than ordinary worth and will be repeated with favor by all. It tells the story of a little Japanese beggar boy and the daughter of a rich merchant and in every way it will come up to the high standard of the recent high class Vitaphone production. There is a laughable comedy and a pleasing musical program included on the bill.

PERIN'S HIPPODROME

Washington park is at last coming into its own and nightly large crowds are entertained by the big and pleasing program offered at the Hippodrome.

Last night there were some new numbers introduced which were not on the bill starting last evening. One which deserves special mention is Van Harding, the boy contortionist, who gave a very novel and unique act. The Gennet Trio in funny tumbling and acrobatic work was good. On the program are Huber's trained bears in many feats, and Klutzing's animals consisting of dogs, pigs, rabbits and cats, all of which do many cute and difficult tricks. The cats perform one trick that is worthy of special notice. They jump straight up in the air to a swinging basket hanging about eight feet over their heads and catch the same with their paws and pull them down to them.

De Nain, the eccentric handmaster, plays many new tunes and the clowns are also seen in new and laughable tricks. The motion pictures at night are changed every two nights and they are also seen in connection with the above big bill.

EMPIRE THEATRE

Roosevelt is at the Empire theatre today. You can see here what a welcome he was given when he came into New York. The whole country was there and it was a grand sight. One that has been well photographed in moving pictures. Netta Kline, the singer and whistler also comes today. Her act is one which has been making such a big hit and is sure to do the same here in the Empire. Reynolds & Anderson in their comedy sketch are right there with the fun, and their short stay here promises to get a fine reception.

LAKEVIEW THEATRE

The crowds keep increasing at Lakeview theatre this week and the fact is probably due to the excellent company and the strong play. That Mr. Flynn has used good judgment in selecting his people is seen nightly as the crowds keep growing larger. "The Dairy Farm" that the company is offering this week is a play of New England life and is an exceptionally strong one, full of heart throbs and laughter and replete in human interest and one that has proven to be very popular this week.

Sunday night there will be a program of moving pictures and illustrated songs and for the bill next week Mr. Flynn has selected the ludicrous farce called "The Other Girl." It is an English comedy, seemingly funny all the way through, and is one that is sure to be liked by the patrons of this cozy little playhouse.

THE KIDNAPPERS

Demanded Sum of $8000 for Return of Boy

NEW YORK, June 23.—An air of expectancy pervaded the home of Dr. Mariano Simeca today and there was every indication that the anxious father and mother anticipated welcome developments in the search for their three year old son Michael, the sensational kidnapping of whom on Tuesday was followed yesterday by a reported demand by the child's abductors of a substantial sum as a ransom. It had been intimated that the kidnappers asked $8000 for the return of the child, but the Italian physician refused to make public all the contents of the kidnappers' communication and declined to let the police try to trace the writers.

"I can do better by working alone," said the physician, "and I expect to get my boy back today."

It was believed from the attitude of the family early today that a line of communication with the abductors of the boy had been established and that assurances had been received not only of the lad's safety, but of his probable speedy return to his parents.

STANDARD OIL CO.

Wins a Victory in Germany

BERLIN, June 23.—The long and venomous campaign waged by German newspapers and rival industrial interests against one of the German branches of the Standard Oil company—the Deutsche Vacuum Oil company—has just been brought to a victorious end for the Americans involved.

A well known Hamburg newspaper for months printed such a series of attacks on the "American graft methods," alleged to have been practised by the Vacuum company in the conduct of its German business, that the public prosecutor of Hamburg felt constrained to make an official investigation with a view to eventual indictments.

The prosecutor has now concluded his investigation, especially of the work of E. L. Quarles, American manager of the German company's sales department, and announces that no necessity exists for pursuing the inquiry. No evidence of anything warranting prosecution was found against Mr. Quarles, and the costs of the entire inquiry will be borne by the state. The result of the investigation constitutes a notable triumph for American interests in Germany.

TYNGSBORO MAN

WAS BESIDE TAYLOR WHEN HE FELL IN BALTIMORE

Mr. Martin Davis of Tyngsboro and a member of G. A. R. post 120 of this city throws some light on the death of Charles A. Taylor, first to fall in defense of the Union April 19, 1861. Mr. Davis says he was Taylor's marching mate when the latter fell. A couple of policemen came along and told Davis that they would take care of the body. Davis says he first saw Taylor in front of the state house, Boston. Taylor came up behind where he was standing in line and asked if they wanted any more men. The captain told Taylor to "come along" and he went without a uniform. From the talk on the way to Baltimore it was gathered that Taylor was a painter.

This is by far the largest average circulation of any newspaper in Lowell.

A tour of the canals any of these warm evenings will show what risks young and old take to enjoy a bath. It is useless to argue against the practice, the temptation is so great that the people who are pent up in hot work-rooms during the day cannot resist it. They take the risks with a full consciousness of the danger. But it is cruel to offer them no alternative.

AGAINST ROOSEVELT'S RENOMINATION

Morrison I. Swift of Concord, N. H., sends out a pamphlet entitled "The Roosevelt Third Term Intrigue." Mr. Swift's chief point is that "a decisive word from Col. Roosevelt that under no condition would he accept a renomination, would put an end to the agitation, but he does not speak that word and the active fomenters of the plan keep at work." In reply to this it may be said that it would seem rather foolish for Col. Roosevelt to make any such announcement before sentiment in that direction had taken any definite form. Moreover, it may be that a patriotic citizen feels that he should always hold himself in readiness to respond to his country's call for service in public office as well as on the field in time of war. In saying this we do not mean to dispute the reasonableness of Mr. Swift's opposition to the nomination of Roosevelt for a third term.

ROOSEVELT'S SUPPORT OF LODGE

It is announced that Col. Roosevelt will make a speech in Boston for Senator Lodge in October. That will show that the doughty colonel is still ready to shout in support of the republican machine, for there is not in the entire country a man more committed to the unconditional support of the republican machine than is Senator Lodge.

Lodge will fight for republican victory right or wrong. He has always taken that attitude and even in the present investigation of the high cost of living he is doing what he can to place the cause everywhere but where it properly belongs, on the tariff and its logical offspring, the trusts. So clearly will this be apparent to the whole people of this state that we venture to say Roosevelt's speech will injure rather than help Lodge.

The republicans in the west are waiting to have Roosevelt take some stand in regard to the attitude of the insurgents, and if he declares against them the insurgency will spread to other states and may become irresistible.

When all this personal glorification of Roosevelt shall have died away, he will find himself a greatly diminished power, not only in politics but in other matters also. He is greatly mistaken if he imagines he can long hold public sentiment in his favor so strongly as he has done during the last year. This interference in Massachusetts politics will injure Roosevelt and it will not help Lodge.

Congressman Ames should not be in the least feazed by Roosevelt's espousal of Lodge's campaign. The fact that Lodge appealed to Roosevelt for help shows that the senator is badly scared. He has reason to be for he is serving the republican party of the nation rather than his state.

THE COLBURN SCHOOL

The Training school has been abolished, we presume, for the benefit of the schools. No other object of course could actuate the present school board. That being accomplished, it is up to the school board so to re-organize both schools, that the people of the district will have as good service and as good discipline from the corps of teachers as those of any other district in Lowell. What is needed now is a strong principal who will at once take hold of the school and impress upon the pupils the necessity of discipline and strict attention to duty. Somehow the results attained in the past have been disappointing, largely due, it is alleged, to the fact that the real principal was absent a good part of the time and that delegated authority is never so implicitly obeyed as the real thing. The janitor of that school has been so often drafted to suppress disorder that the school board should either provide a healthy male principal or an assistant janitor. There are three members of the teaching faculty of the Training school to be provided for; but if the school board set out to make one of these principal with its usual discretion it would select the weakest of the three. If it should decide upon a male principal, it will make a very grave mistake if it selects for the position of principal of the Colburn grammar school any stripling with little practical experience in directing and administering the affairs of such an important school besides doing an important part of the work in a number of the higher branches.

It is expected that this and other matters will be attended to at the next meeting of the school board to be held Tuesday. Let it be remembered that a competent woman principal is better than an incompetent male principal and that a level-headed, capable and experienced male principal is the only kind that should be selected for this school at the present time. The three teachers to be provided for can be satisfactorily placed elsewhere in the system. It is only fair that they should have some recognition above those whom they have been instructing, but the people of the district want the educational opportunities for which the city pays, but which from one cause or another have been denied them. There is now a chance for the school board to set the matter right. Will it have the tact or the gumption to do so?

No other district in Lowell would have put up so long with the conditions that prevailed there for some years past, conditions that usually accompany the system of testing teachers that has been in force. While we say this we are not condemning the Training school nor approving the system put in force when it was abolished.

It is a well known fact that frequent changes in the teaching staff will demoralize any school. Particularly is this so when the teachers are young and inexperienced, we care not how vigilant the supervision. Now that this system is abolished, the public expects the school board to show its judgment in giving the school a corps of permanent teachers that will make the school one of the best in the city. The people of the district want no more dickerings at the expense of the educational interests of the district.

(St. Nicholas)

I had a little secret
And it just belonged to me,
But Betsey Morris stayed all night,
And as we watched the fading light,
It slipped out ere I knew 'twas gone,
As slyly as could be.
And now my little secret
That I guarded faithfully,
Belongs to Betsey Morris, too,
The whole wide town—and me.

FANCIES

I know a little country lass
Who blushes very red
When passing through the garden
Where Sweet William lies in bed.
Her brother is about the same,
A very modest lad,
He won't go near a pond for fear
He'd see the lily pad.

Mrs. Phoebe Jane Hallock, aged 75, of Riverhead, L. I., is being congratulated by her many friends on having received the gold medal for delivering the best recitation at the entertainment in the Congregational church. Opposed to Mrs. Hallock for the honor were a dozen women, some many years younger, but most of them about fifty. Mrs. Hallock is known in Riverhead as the "Tombs Angel" because of the good work she has done among the prisoners in the Suffolk county jail. She has been a resident of Riverhead for many years.

Senator "Big Tim" Sullivan of New York, now in London, tells a story on himself touching a London cabby's characteristic treatment of him.

"Big Tim" took a hansom, and, without ever leaving it, drove around for an hour and a half. Returning to the Hotel Savoy, he gave the cabby double his proper fare. Instead of being grateful, the cabby mistook the senator for a "muff," a "greenhorn," a "sucker," as you would say in New York.

Another "arf-crown, sir," demanded the cabby.

"Ah, get out!" retorted "Big Tim," as he turned away and walked into the hotel.

"Ladies and gents," cried the cabby, rising in his seat and addressing the fashionable company taking tea on the open air cafe, "tyke a good look at 'im, for I be ashamed to tell you where 'e's been."

A Texas congressman thinks the following letter from one of his constituents represents the limit of imposition upon the herd working patriots at Washington:

"Dear sir will you please sell me some envelopes with my name on so I want like to put any stamps on them I would like to have envelopes without putting names on I will pay just as much as the stamped envelopes cost you can have the place the stamp is to be put paid 2c and send them to me I want white envelopes I want them I can mail without stamps I will pay them just the same if an the stamped ones are or like the ones I want to put the stamps on them I would be glad to have them free or I will pay for them if you want it I want envelopes just like the postmasters have and do not need to put any stamps on I can pay for them I want white paper envelopes with my name on the left side just like you put your hair I want about a doz or 2 doz also please tell me how to cure Hogs and Pigs of the Mange mine has them something cruel and I have put something on them but could not help them also please tell me how to

WRESTLING NEWS

There'll be something doing on the mat in Associate hall tomorrow night, when the Lowell Wrestling club will provide a regular feast of wrestling, when the best program line of sport ever offered in Lowell will be given.

There will be two preliminaries consisting of Kid Pappas of this city and an unknown Canadian wrestler and John Killonis, the local Greek wrestler. Those who have seen Killonis and Pappas go, know that if their opponents are any good these matches, alone will be worth the price of admission.

There will be two big final events. The first will be William Demetrial, the Greek heavyweight champion, and Al Hansen, the Armenian heavyweight champion. The second will be Jack Leon, the Russian heavyweight, and Harry Livovsky, George Markon-Schmidt's wrestling partner. Thus the meeting will be a clash of nationalities that in itself ought to be most interesting. Popular prices will prevail.

FUNERALS

HART—The funeral of Elsworth Hart, who lost his life in Hale's brook Monday afternoon by drowning, took place yesterday afternoon from St. Paul's M. E. church and was largely attended by friends and relatives. Rev. H. W. Hook officiated and appropriate selections were given by Mrs. S. Yarns, who sang "Sometime We'll Understand," "Sleep, Darling, Sleep," and "The Christian's Goodnight."

The bearers were Joseph Conroy, Joseph McShane, Wilfred Mann, John McGuire, James Himes, and Walter Ferguson, all players of the deceased. His teacher, Miss Murray of the Edison school, with her class, attended the services at the church and in the school room his desk had been draped in his memory. The deceased was a particularly bright and promising boy and was well beloved by teachers and pupils alike.

WILD RUNAWAY

Nearly Killed Two Children Sitting
on the Curbstone

Tony and Francis Alfano, aged seven and three years, respectively, by a runaway horse that passed through Ford street shortly after six o'clock last night.

A RUNAWAY HORSE RUNS OVER AND SERIOUSLY INJURES TWO LITTLE BOYS WHILE SITTING ON THE CURBSTONE.

The children were seated on the curbing at the corner of Austin and Ford streets, in front of their home which is at 76 Ford street. They were enjoying themselves eating cherries when suddenly a horse dashed around the corner from Austin street and headed up Ford street. The horse was attached to a laundry wagon and two of the wheels passed over the bodies of both children.

Passersby who witnessed the accident rushed to the assistance of the children and found that both, though bleeding from wounds, were still conscious. Tony suffered a broken right thigh and right arm and a scalp wound on the head. He was removed to the Lowell hospital in the ambulance. His condition is critical. Francis had three cuts on the head and also had his legs badly bruised.

His injuries are not serious, and he was not taken to the hospital. Dr. Donahue gave first aid to both children.

The horse and wagon which passed over the children belonged to a laundryman named Turcotte. The accident resulted from leaving the horses unhitched on the street, something which under present conditions should be forbidden by law.

NATL. FEDERATION

Of Millers Heard J. J. Hill's Paper

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., June 23.—

"Wheat" was the subject of discussion at today's meeting of the National Association of Millers. The subject was treated in a paper prepared by James J. Hill, chairman of the board of directors of the Great Northern railroad, and read by C. B. Jenkins of Noblesville, Ind. Mr. Hill was unable to attend the meeting. Other speakers also discussed the subject. Mr. Hill's paper was as follows:

"One fact, it seems to me, should give you more concern than almost any other, because you have already felt its effects. It is the pressure upon existing terminal facilities. It is a future menace and a present handicap. You have felt, and will continue to feel, the partial embargo that traffic conditions have placed upon all the business of the country; upon yours perhaps as seriously as any other. The milling interest of the entire country, except where it serves a purely local demand is feeling the pinch of the transportation situation and will in the future feel it more severely. The growth of the country in population, in production, in transportation business, has been marked. There has not been a corresponding growth in the facilities for transportation.

"For months past it has been impossible to get freight shipments delivered promptly if these have to be delivered at any of the central markets or principal terminal points. The flood of business that rose to such dangerous height in 1907 is piling up again, with the additions made by national growth since then. The future will add in increasing ratio to these difficulties as well as to the losses they involve. The only probable relief from the pressure upon our transportation agencies, and especially upon terminals, where the greatest difficulty exists, is the decline of our export trade. The demand of the home consumer is lessening the volume of our food stuffs and will effect similarly some other items on the list. But this change will bring relief to the carrier only insofar as export terminals are concerned.

"An enormous volume of new traffic is being developed by the industrial advance of the country between the Mississippi river and the Pacific coast. All of this must seek its market; and much of it will be added to the total that already over-burdened court terminals.

"In the great markets of the eastern half of the country, in New York, Cleveland, Buffalo, Chicago, the crisis has already arrived. Traffic growth and terminal congestion are applying the brakes to business progress. This means trouble for the whole country. It is no more disastrous to have the banks close their doors than to have the railroads choked. The interest which you represent must suffer with the other, and therefore it should be taking thought with others for the future. For the same cause will work out the same effects in the west.

"What is the remedy? Of course, there is none cut and dried, complete and effective, for an evil that has been growing for so long a time, and which public action thus far has tended to intensify rather than to diminish. The best that can be done is to offer suggestions for tentative and partial relief, and then to engage the best thought and effort for the whole country, especially of business men and associations such as yours, in an effort to lessen the tension that now strangles trade. Where terminals can be enlarged without incurring prohibitive indebtedness, that of course, is the natural remedy. Existing facilities also may be made more effective.

"Decentralization of traffic terminals offers a partial cure, partially only, however, because it is applicable only to a portion of the business to be done. Some of the through business of the country can be diverted to other points than those where it now collects, but the great central markets cannot be destroyed nor the bulk of their business affected.

"There is, however, a considerable element in our traffic aggregate, which is capable of decentralization. Take your own industry, for example, because both your raw material and your product are bulky and heavy articles, you are, perhaps, more interested than others, since you are most likely to suffer from terminal congestion. It is worth while to consider whether a considerable share of your distributing business could be readjusted. If orders went direct to the mills from the smaller cities and towns, and shipments were made direct to them, instead of being consigned to central agencies, and thence transferred to buyers, it would make less business for terminals. By such a process of decentralization, adopted by business generally, much relief might be obtained. The problem of terminals is the greatest problem of the country, the problem of transportation agencies, of financiers, of the communities directly affected and of all the industries that depend, directly or indirectly, upon cheap and speedy carriage for the commodities which they buy and sell. It is a problem for everybody, since probably not one business man in the whole country would fail to feel the disastrous effects if it were to be neglected for the next five years as it has for the last ten, and to blight every form of activity by paralyzing the whole trade.

MORAN-ATTELL BOUT

LOS ANGELES, Cal., June 23.—While there is no likelihood of interference with the Moran-Attell fight Friday night, steps are now being taken to prevent all ring encounters in the future by high license. Attorney Newby of the Civic Righteousness committee of the Church Federation addressed a communication to the city council today urging that body to "strike while anti-prize fight sentiment is at flood" and pass an ordinance regulating contests so stringently that they will be too unprofitable to engage in.

"FINGY" CONNERS

Says Democrats Will Elect the Next President

BOSTON, June 23.—William J. (Fingy) Connors, the Buffalo, N. Y., millionaire politician and publisher, visited Boston yesterday, called upon Mayor Fitzgerald and made a few political predictions.

He declared among other things that the next president will be a democrat, and that if Gov. Harmon of Ohio is re-elected he will "look pretty good" as far as the democratic nomination for president is concerned.

He asserted that the republican forces in New York are disorganized, and that the democrats will undoubtedly elect a governor in that state this fall.

He said also that the democrats will win in four more New York congressional districts this fall.

He asserted that the Roosevelt reception in New York did not necessarily mean anything politically and cited the receptions given Dewey, Bryan, and the man who got the five cent fare bill through the New York legislature in that city to prove his contention.

He laughingly said when asked to make a prediction as to Roosevelt's future, "If any man is going to make a prediction about Roosevelt, it won't be me."

Mr. Connors arrived in Boston harbor on his steam yacht the Mary Alice shortly after noon yesterday.

With Mrs. Connors, their daughter, Ruth, and Mr. Connors' sister-in-law, Miss Margaret Gordon, on board, the yacht is making the trip from New York to Buffalo via the Great Lakes.

The vessel was brought into Boston for minor repairs to machinery.

As soon as the yacht dropped anchor in the stream Mr. Connors went ashore and made his way to city hall.

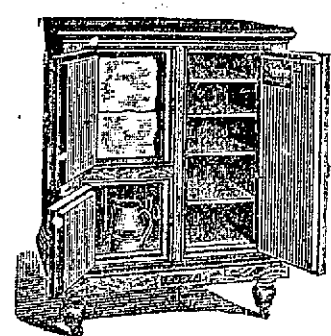

There he had about three-fourths of an hour chat with the mayor, whom he first met several years ago.

In the mayor's office he met the city hall reporters and politics immediately became the subject of discussion.

In reply to questions he said: "We will elect a democratic governor in New York this fall, just as sure as you are born."

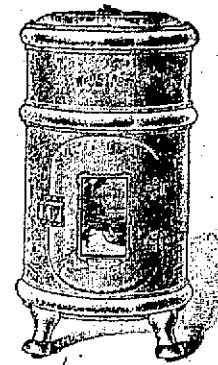

Asked who he thought would get the democratic nomination in the next presidential campaign, he said: "I see Harmon is on top again in Ohio. If

JOHN CLAFLIN, HEAD OF DRY GOODS TRUST, WHO IS CONSOLIDATING MANY STORES

JOHN CLAFLIN

NEW YORK, June 23.—The United Dry Goods syndicate is fast becoming one of the big trusts of the United States. Headed by John Claflin, head of H. B. Claflin & Co., the trust has purchased Lord & Taylor of New York City. J. P. Morgan started the dry goods trust and has backed Claflin until today he controls not only many of the leading department stores of the country, but has secured control of many smaller stores throughout the country. The United Dry Goods Co., incorporated in Delaware, obtained control of the Associated Merchants Co., which already had acquired interests in many dry goods stores. The interests now under one head are H. B. Claflin & Co., James McCreary & Co. in both 23rd and 34th streets, C. G.

Gunther & Co., O'Neill-Adams Co. of New York, Stewart & Co., formerly Posner Bros. of Baltimore, and J. N. Adams & Co. of Buffalo. Other stores which were purchased outright include those of Hahne & Co. of Newark, N. J., Powers Mercantile Co. of Minneapolis, Minn., Wm. H. Hengener Co. of Buffalo, and Stewart Dry Goods Co. of Louisville.

he should be re-elected, he certainly will look good to me for the head of the ticket."

Speaking of Boston, he said: "It looks like a pretty lively place, sort of looks as if you are doing things here like Boston."

He alluded to Mayor Fitzgerald as a "pretty bright, snappy, clean-cut fellow."

A Simple Cure for Hair Troubles

There are no better things known for treating the hair and scalp than Refined Soap, White of Eggs, Glycerin, Cebolin, Coconut Oil and Salicylic Acid. The soap cleanses the scalp, the White of Eggs loosens dandruff and scales on the scalp, the Glycerin and coconut oil helps to make a lather and gives a beautiful gloss to the hair. YOUNG SAILORS ARE ON THEIR SUMMER PRACTICE CRUISE

PLYMOUTH, Eng., June 23.—The American battleships Indiana, Massachusetts and Iowa, with 20 midgets, left for their first trip across the Atlantic today.

The young sailors are having their summer practice cruise. The squadron is commanded by Rear Admiral Clark. The squadron sailed from Hampton Roads on June 9. The young men were given a taste of rough weather during what was for most of them their first trip across the Atlantic.

One shipman on the flagship Iowa suffered from an interior fever and though he was practically convalescent upon his arrival here was removed to the naval hospital at St. George's house in order that he might fully recuperate. The local authorities are planning a round of entertainments for the visitors.

The midships will be guests at a dinner by the lord mayor of London.

COURT OF ARBITRAL JUSTICE

LONDON, June 23.—The international conference of chambers of commerce shelved until the next meeting the resolution recommending the establishment of a court of arbitral justice as proposed to the powers by Mr. Knox, American secretary of state.

The resolution was introduced yesterday by Frank Lalane of Philadelphia on behalf of the national board of trade of the United States of which he is the president. His discussion today developed a considerable diversity of feeling with the result that it was finally referred to a permanent committee on resolutions for presentation at the congress to be held in Boston in 1912.

MISSIONARY CONFERENCE
EDINBURGH, June 23.—The Rev. James Barton, the chairman of the committee, today presented the report of the committee on the "Home base of missions" at the world missionary conference. The sessions continue to be well attended, as many as can be accommodated at the meeting places being drawn from the city and nearby points to swell the crowd of delegates.

AN EXPLOSION

On Board the Steam Yacht Columbia

CHICAGO, June 23.—One man was probably fatally burned, another suffered severe injuries and fifteen passengers, several of them women, narrowly escaped with their lives in an explosion and fire on board the steam yacht Columbia as the boat reached the docks near the Columbia Yacht club at the foot of Randolph street last night. The 50-foot boat was swept by a sheet of flame following the explosion of the gasoline tank.

CORNELL GETS ESTATE

ITHACA, N. Y., June 23.—Cornell university will receive the majority part of the estate, estimated at nearly $1,000,000, of Goldwin Smith, who was prominently identified with the early history of the university. Professor Smith died recently at his home in Toronto after an illness of many months. Announcement of the bequest was made by President Jacob Gould Schurman to the alumni association yesterday. Its value will not be known until the executors file the petition for probate next week.

DEGREE FOR GENERAL MILES

HAMILTON, N. Y., June 23.—General Nelson A. Miles, formerly in command of the United States Army, received the degree of LL.D. here yesterday at the commencement of Colgate university. General Miles delivered the Phi Beta Kappa oration.

LOWELL MASS. THURSDAY JUNE 23 1910

EXTRA
MYSTERY SOLVEDCharlton Admits That He Murdered His Wife

NEW YORK, June 23.—Porter Charlton, husband of Mrs. Mary Scott Castle Charlton, whose body was found stuffed in a trunk which was taken from Lake Como, Italy, recently, was arrested as he stepped from the steamship Princess Irene in Hoboken today. Charlton at first denied his identity, but after being given the third degree he admitted that he was the husband of Mrs. Charlton.

Charlton made a signed statement to the Hoboken police. The police later announced that the statement was a confession that he had slain his wife. Charlton said in his confession that he and his wife had been having supper together at the villa on Lake Como and that they had engaged in a violent quarrel. Charlton said his wife, who was one of the best women in the world but had an ungovernable temper, called him some vile names and that finally when he could not stand her abuse any longer, he attacked her with a wooden mallet. The young man said that he struck her over the head three times, knocking her unconscious and killing her, as far as he knew.

Charlton told the police that he then stuck the body of his wife in a trunk and carried it down to the lake, where he threw the trunk in the water.

The police were watching for the arrival of the steamer Deutschland this afternoon as it had been reported that Charlton sailed on that steamer. Some officers, however, were sent to watch the docking of the Princess Irene. They had a description of Charlton, and when they saw a man resembling him leave the ship they pounced on him and placed him under arrest. He protested vigorously and seemed inclined to offer forcible resistance but his hands were speedily applied to him and he subsided.

Captain Scott, the brother of Mrs. Charlton, who had come to Hoboken today, to aid the police, was quickly summoned to the pier when Charlton was arrested. Captain Scott took one glance at the prisoner and said the man was Charlton.

In the meantime the patrol wagon had been summoned from the station house and the prisoner with the three detectives and Captain Scott hurried to headquarters where Chief Hayes put him through the "third degree."

Charlton Drew Revolver

While Charlton was being awaited under the third degree he became infuriated and drawing a revolver tried to shoot Chief of Police Hayes. He was quickly disarmed and in a few minutes confessed the crime.

Charlton's Confession

Within half an hour after his arrest Charlton had signed the following statement:

"My wife and I lived happily together. She was the best woman in the world to me but she had an ungovernable temper. So had I. We frequently quarreled over the most trivial matter and her language to me was frequently so foul that I knew she did not know the meaning of it.

"The night I struck her she had been quarreling with me. She was in the worst temper I had ever seen her in. I told her if she did not cease I would leave her and put a stop to it. She stopped for a little while and started again.

"I took a mallet which I used to do some household repairs and struck her three times over the head. She fell back and I put the body in a trunk in which I also threw the mallet. About 12 that night I moved the trunk from the house, dragged it to a small pier near the house and threw it overboard. I remained at Malpaso the next day and left the following night and went to Como and from there to Genoa, where I took the steamer Irene three days later.

"The room where I killed her was an outdoor sleeping apartment. (Signed) 'Porter Charlton.'"

THE BOAT CREWS WALSH INDICTED

Are Finishing Training
Before Regattas

GALES FERRY, Conn., June 23.—Upon smooth water the Yale freshman and varsity eight had a half mile brush this morning in which the latter led at the finish. Howe, who was No. 2 in the freshman eight, has gone to stroke and Reid at No. 2 in the four has gone to No. 2 in the eight. Scraggs is now at No. 2 in the four and Brundred is the stroke. All the four were out, but did not have rowing.

The Yale squad went down to Red Top to exchange courtesies with Harvard this afternoon. Harvard came up to Gales Ferry last year.

COURSE LAID OUT

RED TOP, Conn., June 23.—The approach of race day on the Thames was indicated today when the laying out of a course came up for official consideration. Captain Wadell of the Yale crew, Captain Wald of the Harvard crew, Coxswain Fearing of the Yale eight, Coxswain King of the Harvard eight, and F. V. Chappell of Yale, chairman of the regatta committee, went out in a launch to look over the course.

The Harvard varsity and freshman eights had their first racing start during the morning and they were considered to have been good. The varsity fours did not go out. Cutler has gone into the freshman four in place of Morgan.

DULL AT POUGHKEEPSIE

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., June 23.—Things were dull with the varsity oarsmen this forenoon, notwithstanding that the regatta is only two days distant. This was mainly due to the intense heat. Pennsylvania and Columbia did not go on the water at all. Cornell, Wisconsin and Syracuse did some paddling to keep the men limber. There is no betting of any account so far but such odds as are quoted make Cornell favorite, with Columbia second.

BAIL FIXED AT $1000

BOSTON, June 23.—William J. Kellier, who has been at the Charles street jail since his conviction on the charge of aiding and abetting George Coleman was in a happy frame of mind today for he expects to be at liberty before the end of the week, under $50,000 bonds. It was stated today that his friends have obtained the required sum and that the bondsmen will qualify before U. S. District Attorney French Saturday morning.

District Attorney French has requested the department of justice to authorize an increase in the reward for the apprehension of Martin J. Walsh from $200 to $1000.

MR. EDWARDS DEAD

LOS ANGELES, Cal., June 23.—Mrs. Sarah Edwards, whose son, D. R. Edwards, is President Taft's brother-in-law, died yesterday aged 75. The president was the guest of the Edwards family during his recent visit to Los Angeles.

Reward on Faro Dealer
Increased to $1000

BOSTON, June 23.—Martin J. Walsh, a well known sporting man of this city now in parts unknown, Francis J. Wood of Boston and three others whose names have not been disclosed, were indicted by the United States grand jury today for offenses alleged to have been committed in connection with the wrecking of the National City bank of Cambridge. The indictment against Walsh is of thirty-one counts and like that against William J. Kellier charges him with aiding and abetting George W. Coleman, the defaulting bookkeeper, in the misappropriation of the funds of the bank.

Wood, who is indicted for perjury at the Kellier trial, is a South End grocer. He testified that he cashed a check for a Mrs. Taylor.

Walsh was frequently mentioned during the trial of Kellier and Coleman, losted that Walsh was often a member of little parties that went to New York to try to break the faro bank.

AT HOLY CROSS

Annual Commencement Exercises Held Today

WORCESTER, June 23.—Holy Cross college today graduated with the degree of bachelor of arts 67 young men, the largest graduating class in the history of the college. Thomas D. Lawlor of New York, a Holy Cross alumnus, was given the honorary degree of doctor of laws, while the honorary degree of master of arts was conferred upon nine candidates, and the honorary degree of science degree on one candidate.

The exercises were held on Commencement terrace, just opposite the north entrance to the college grounds. Rev. Thomas Murphy, S. J., president of the college, conferred the degrees. The guests included Bishop Thomas D. Reardon of the Springfield diocese and Governor Eben S. Draper.

The commencement orators were Daniel L. Donovan of Worcester, Cornelius Sullivan of Thompsonville, Conn., and Timothy O'Brien of Manchester, N. H. Lawrence O'Toole of Clinton gave the salutatory address while the valedictory was delivered by James Connors of Pittsfield.

GLOVER MURDER

Mrs. Glover, Lawyers and Four Others Secretly Indicted

CAMBRIDGE, June 23.—The government sprang a sensation today in its investigation of the murder last November of Clarence F. Glover, the Waltham laundryman, by placing on trial as accessories after the fact the widow, Mrs. Lillian M. Glover; her counsel, Samuel D. Elmore and Alton F. Tupper, her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Seymour S. Glover, and two friends, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Freeman. Glover was shot in his laundry, and before he died he charged Hattie Leblanc, a domestic, with the crime. Miss Leblanc was not found guilty to the long indictment when District Attorney Higgins moved for an immediate trial. Prominent lawyers were rushed over from Boston, including Gen. Charles W. Bartlett, and every effort was made to postpone action. The district attorney was firm, however, and the court upheld him.

It took but a few minutes to select a jury, with Dudley L. Page of Lowell as foreman, and all twelve men were hustled into automobiles and whirled out to Waltham. There the laundry where the shooting took place and the Glover house were thoroughly inspected. Shortly after noon the jury returned, ready to hear the evidence.

In the Court

Charged with assisting Hattie Leblanc who is now awaiting trial on the charge of murdering Clarence Glover, a Waltham laundryman, and with being accessories after the fact with the French girl in the crime, Mrs. Lillian Glover and six others appeared in the Middlesex county superior criminal court here today to answer to secret indictments returned by the June Middlesex county grand jury. Besides Mrs. Glover, cold and stern, was the first to plead. Her two lawyers, Messrs. Elmore and Tupper, were also unshaken, but the Seymour Glovers and the Freemans were visibly agitated, Mrs. Freeman being almost in a state of collapse.

Scarcely had they answered to their names and entered their pleas of not guilty to the long indictment when District Attorney Higgins moved for an immediate trial. Prominent lawyers were rushed over from Boston, including Gen. Charles W. Bartlett, and every effort was made to postpone action. The district attorney was firm, however, and the court upheld him.

It took but a few minutes to select a jury, with Dudley L. Page of Lowell as foreman, and all twelve men were hustled into automobiles and whirled out to Waltham. HARVARD-YALE

Big College Ball Game at Cambridge Today

First Inning

CAMBRIDGE, June 23.—Harvard and Yale met in a baseball match this afternoon on Soldiers field. Unlike the ordinary riot at Yale field Tuesday the Harvard gathering today was noticeably subdued. The fair guests of the students, many of whom had just come from spreads in the college yard, were banked, tier upon tier, until the vast great grandstands seemed almost aflame in prismatic beauty.

Second Inning

Harvard entered today's game undaunted by the 12 to 5 defeat at New Haven Tuesday and confident that a third game would be necessary in New York next Tuesday. The Yale players were equally sure that today's contest would end the series. An unusually large crowd came up from New Haven to see the game due to the ending of the college year yesterday.

Third Inning

Threatening weather conditions during the forenoon with a slight rainfall did not cool the ardor of the under-graduates nor their guests and before 1 p. m. the grandstands were filling rapidly although the game was not started until 2 o'clock. The field was in fine shape.

Fourth Inning

Both teams arrived on the field shortly after noon and Yale was given the first chance to limber up the diamond shaped arena. The announced batting order was as follows:

Yale: Harvard

Badger of Logan 3b

Murphy 1b

Tummers 2b

McIntyre 2b

Phillips c

Cory of Stevens of

Merritt as

Umpires—O'Loughlin and Adams.

First Inning

First inning: Yale 0. Badger started the game by popping a high fly to Langlan. Logan hit to Marshall and was thrown out. Murphy struck out.

First inning—Harvard 1. For Harvard, McLaughlin was given a pass to start and was sacrificed to second by

Marshall. Captain Langlan scored. Mc-

Laughlin with a single to centre. Potter and Hicks were out on easy flies.

Score—Harvard 1, Yale 0.

Second Inning

Second inning: Yale 0. Langlan tossed out Phillips. After McIntyre fled out Corey walked but was left when Stevens fled to centre.

Score—Harvard 1, Yale 0.

Third Inning

Third inning: Yale 0. Langlan threw out Merrill. After a pretty one-hand stop, Tummers fanned. Badger singled but was out stealing.

Fifth inning: Harvard 0. McLaughlin struck out. McIntyre made a sensational one handed catch. Marshall's high drive. Langlan was called out on strikes.

Score: Harvard 3; Yale, 0.

Sixth Inning

Sixth inning: Yale 0. Logan out.

Potter to McLaughlin. McIntyre took care of high flies by Murphy and Phi-lin.

Harvard 0. Potter fled to Badger,

Hicks was safe on Merrill's fumble.

Gardner hit into double play, Tum-mers to Merrill to Murphy.

Score—Harvard 3, Yale 0.

See Sun bulletin for final result of the game.

A Storekeeper Says:

"A lady came into my store lately and said: 'I have been using a New Perfection Oil Cook-Stove all winter in my apartment. I want one now for my summer home. I think these oil stoves are wonderful. If only women knew what a comfort they are, they would all have one. I spoke about my stove to a lot of my friends, and they were astonished. They thought that there was smell and smoke from an oil stove, and that it heated a room just like any other stove. I told them of my experience, and one after another they got one, and now, not one of them would give hers up for five times its cost.'"

The lady who said this had thought an oil stove was all right for quickly heating milk for a baby, or boiling a kettle of water, or to make coffee quickly in the morning, but she never dreamed of using it for difficult or heavy cooking. Now—she knows.

Do you really appreciate what a New Perfection Oil Cook-Stove means to you? No more coal to carry, no more coming to the dinner table so tired that you can't eat. Just light a Perfection Stove and immediately the heat from an intense blue flame shoots up to the bottom of pot, kettle or oven. But the room isn't heated. There is no smoke, no smell, no outside heat, no drooping in the kitchen where one of these stoves is used.

New Perfection Oil Cook-Stove

It has a Cabinet Top with a shelf for keeping plates and food hot. The nickel finish, with the bright blue of the chimneys, makes the stove ornamental and attractive. Made with 1, 2 and 3 burners; the 2 and 3-burner stoves can be had with or without Cabinet.

POLICE OFFICER Severely Burned and May Die

BOSTON, June 23.—William E. Conolly, patrolman of the West Roxbury district for the Edison company, was so severely burned by electricity yesterday afternoon that he is expected to die. He is at the Mount Hope hospital.

Conolly's fellow-workmen think that heat overcame him. He had climbed a 25-foot pole on Centre street and a few feet north of Church street, and West Roxbury, to investigate short circuit trouble. His life belt was about the top of the pole and he was making his way among the wires with his arms above his head when there was a loud report followed by a blinding flash.

A fellow-employee raced in an automobile to the nearest spot where he could get word to the power house to shut off the current, and Conolly, opposite whose house the accident occurred, turned in a fire alarm. For three or four minutes the odor of burning flesh pervaded the neighborhood, and then the current was shut off.

Ladder 25 arrived very soon after a report run from its house at Belle street, and Dr. W. W. Howell of 1221 Centre street was also early on the scene. Capt. McLaughlin's men raised a ladder and, after slipping a rope around the prostrate body, lowered it to the street. The flesh was burned to the bone on the back, shoulders and thighs.

TENOR FOR GOVERNOR

HARRISBURG, Pa., June 23.—The republican state convention, held here yesterday, nominated without opposition, the following ticket:

Governor—Congressman John K. Tener of Washington county.

Lieutenant governor—Congressman John M. Reynolds of Bedford county.

Secretary of international affairs—Henry Houck of Lebanon county, the present incumbent.

State treasurer—Charles F. Wright of Susquehanna county, who was recently appointed by Gov. Stuart to fill the vacancy in the office.

The platform commends both the national and state administrations. The recently enacted tariff bill is endorsed as being in accordance with the republican policy expressed in its last national platform.

"No increase in the price of the common necessities of life can honestly be attributed to the tariff for the duties upon them were not raised," says the platform.

It was probably the briefest and most harmonious convention in the history of the party in this state. Only one candidate was named for each office and the platform presented was adopted without any change. One hour and fourteen minutes elapsed from the opening of the convention until it adjourned.

SEEKS RELEASE

Singer Was Sued for $10,000

BOSTON, June 23.—Karl de Mel, who represents himself as an opera singer, was before Judge Fessenden, in the superior court yesterday, seeking his release from an arrest on mesne process in a $10,000 civil suit brought against him by Charlotte Lilian Moore of this city, a daughter of Dr. Ira L. Moore, formerly of Somerville, or a reduction of the $10,000 required by the suit for his release.

De Mel was arrested Saturday on the ground that he intended to leave the state and would not be here to answer in case Miss Moore obtained judgment against him. Her suit is for $7800, which she says she loaned to him.

He has a suit for $10,000 pending against her in Middlesex county for breach of contract to pay him $3000 a year so long as he remained unmarried or until he married any other woman than herself. He declares that when the contract was made, in August, 1907, he wished to marry her and have him continue his musical education in Europe, and that after she had paid $1500 he refused to pay more and was unwilling to marry him, though he was willing to marry her.

Miss Moore claims she paid him $6000 before the contract was made and $1600 under the contract. Seeing Dr. Mel at the Parker house last week, she informed her counsel of his presence here, with the result that the order for his arrest was obtained.

He had come from Washington, D. C. He claims Hamburg, N. Y., as his legal residence. Miss Moore and he became acquainted in California.

Judge Fessenden declined to interfere with the arrest, but took the question of bail under consideration. He decision will be announced today.

MUSICAL FESTIVAL

AT ST. ANNE'S CHURCH WITH ADDRESS ON THE MUSIC

A musical festival service was held last night in St. Anne's church, with an address on the music of the church by Rev. A. St. John Chamber, D. D.

The musical program was under the direction of Mr. Charles N. Sladen, with Mr. Brown at the organ. The surprised choir sang special anthems and hymns, besides the usual musical portions of the evening service. The order of service was as follows: Processional hymn 506.....Edwards "Oft in danger, oft in wee, Onward, Christians, onward go." Sentences and prayers, Psalter, Psalm 145. Gloria.....Crotch First Lesson.....Isaiah 12 Magnificat.....Hall Second Lesson.....Rev. V. 6-14 Nunc Dimittis.....Hall Prayers.

Anthems after 3rd collect: "Saviour, Thy Children Keep." Sullivan "Hark, Hark My Soul,".....Shelley Prayers.

Psalm 53. "Shout the glad tidings exultingly sing: Jerusalem triumphs, Messiah is King." Address, Dr. Chamber. Anthem, (During the offertory,) "My Shepherd is the Living God." Thayer

Te Deum (At the Presentation). Pay Prayers.

Benediction. Recessional hymn, 535.....Barney "Now the day is over, Night is drawing nigh."

AT FULL SPEED

W. W. HILLIARD MADE A SUCCESSFUL FLIGHT

NEWBURYPORT, June 23.—William W. Hilliard of Boston remained in the air five minutes and a half last night and covered a distance estimated at five miles. This performance was a continuation of a series of successful flights made in the morning.

With a westerly wind of about four miles an hour, the Burgess biplane, which is jointly owned by Joseph C. Shoemaker of Bridgeton, N. J., and Mr. Hilliard, was hauled from the shore to the launch at 7 o'clock. Mr. Hilliard immediately started the motor and after a few preliminary dashes up and down the course elevated his front control and went into the air.

Those watching the test expected that the flight would be of short duration on account of the stiff breeze, but Mr. Hilliard kept on in the direction of Newbury, crossing the Plum Island river at a height of about 30 feet.

The pilot made as pretty a turn while going at full speed as could be desired. The turn took him over Plum Island in Newbury and across several small creeks. He skirted a grove of trees and barely escaped a telephone pole and wire, showing judgment as he navigated the craft.

Continuing the plucky aviator went between a couple of islands towards Little's farm in Newbury. Most of the time he was going against the wind, which at times came in puffs and the way the machine was handled aroused the enthusiasm of the spectators.

Aviator Hilliard made a turn and headed for the starting point. Coming with the wind his speed equaled that of an express train. When close to the finishing line the pilot shut off his power and landed as easily and gently as a bird, not even bending a wire. He had made a circle and had averaged a height of 40 feet. Hilliard received many congratulations.

THOMAS F. RYAN Not Candidate For U. S. Senator

NEW YORK, June 23.—Thomas F. Ryan, traction magnate and multimillionaire, departing yesterday for Europe on the Mauretania, declared that he had no further interest in politics, and denied the report that he was a candidate for United States senator from Virginia. Mr. Ryan said: "Concerning the report that I am on the verge of collapse from nervous prostration I may say that I have not had to consult my doctor for four and a half months and I sleep like a baby. I like my new life since I threw off the tyranny of details. While I keep my self very busy, yet I do not permit things either big or little, to worry me. "Of all my business concerns, that which most interests me now is the Congo development. I expect to give a great deal of attention to it. It is not at all unlikely that I shall make a visit there."

"I am interested not only in the industrial development of the Congo—which country I am convinced affords the greatest opportunities now to be found in the world—but also in the moral and social conditions. The solution of the negro problem there is, perhaps, the one which deserves the greatest attention."

"As for politics, I have no further interest in them. I have never been a candidate for office, either by election or appointment. There is no truth in the report that I am a candidate to become United States senator from Virginia to succeed Senator Daniel. I have never been accustomed to wait to step into dead men's shoes. I have long been a close personal friend of Senator Daniel and I hope that he will be spared for many years to serve his state and his country."

"I regret very much that I shall not see Mr. Morgan during the summer, as I am compelled to leave before he arrives. My interest in his activities continues to be keen."

"There are people who are asking who is to be the successor of Mr. Morgan. In my opinion there will be none. There has been only one Morgan, and there cannot be a second. Fortunately, there seems to be no reason to become alarmed on this point for years to come. As for the men to whom the interests of New York and the country must look in time of panic or peril in the next generation there is no occasion to go beyond the younger men now in sight. I have perfect confidence in them."

Mr. Ryan will return about the middle of October.

PRES. SCHURMAN

Delivered Closing Address at
Cornell on Goldwin Smith

ITHACA, N. Y., June 23.—The late Goldwin Smith, his work and his influence were taken by President Schurman today for the text of his annual address to the graduating class of Cornell University.

With the temperature in the nineties, thousands of senior week guests watched the Cornell seniors march to the armory this morning in cap and gown to receive their diplomas from the hands of President Jacob Gould Schurman. Degrees were conferred on 700 graduates. Pres. Schurman spoke as follows:

"The foundation of Goldwin Smith's political philosophy," said Dr. Schurman, "was the maxim he caused to be carved on the stone seat which he placed on the campus of Cornell University: 'Above All Nations Is Humanity.' An Englishman by birth he was proud of the historic ideas and traditions and loyal to the genuine interests of England; but he sternly refused to identify those interests and ideals with territorial acquisitions, with selfish aggrandizement, with the subjugation and domination of weaker peoples in Asia and Africa, with unprovoked war against any of the nations of Europe and America, or with a reckless and bellicose diplomacy which makes it difficult to settle international disputes by peaceful methods or by friendly arbitration. It was the moral greatness of England that he persistently championed. And that moral greatness was, he felt, in essential harmony with the welfare of all mankind."

"This same spirit of world-citizenship enabled him to take a dispassionate view of public affairs in the United States and Canada where he spent the last half of his life. In full sympathy with the democracy of the New World, no man saw more keenly or exposed more clearly the narrow and local selfishness which lies in its bosom or the blunders and follies into which it may be betrayed by ignorance and passion. Yet democracy was his creed, and he made it his business as a writer to hold democracy up to its ideal—to lift it above the level of the lower forces from whose influence it can never wholly escape."

"While his heart beat for all mankind he cherished a social vision of the union in some form of the English speaking nations, particularly the union of Canada and the United States; and to the furtherance of this union he devoted much of his best thought and energy. The particular form of union he proposed, however, the United States and Canada may never be realized. The opening of the Canadian northwest in the twentieth century is a most potent factor in the development of Canadian nationality, and it came too late for him to appreciate its importance. But that the two English speaking nations on this continent are destined to be drawn more closely together in the future will already appear pretty certain to any one who considers the implications of that British-American policy which we call the Monroe Doctrine and the significance of the emergence of the powerful Asiatic nations confronting Canada and the United States on the other side of the Pacific with all the problems thence arising of intercourse and emigration, of trade and commerce, of political and religious action and reaction, and of national and international prestige and recognition. Whatever its national destiny may be, Canada has at all events the same international future as the United States; for the future of both is determined by their location on the American continent, the disconnection with the politics of Europe and the consequent political and military alignments of European nations, and their juxtaposition—with the Pacific uniting rather than separating them—to the hundreds of millions of Asiatics who are now developing into great and powerful nationalities just over the western horizon of California, British Columbia and Alaska.

"These mighty forces operating upon the two kindred American nations can scarcely fail to mould them to a common international destiny. And thus, in substance if not in form, Goldwin Smith's dream of continental union may be actually fulfilled. With it may also come—is it not already rapidly approaching?—the moral union of all the English speaking nations and their alliance, informal if not formal, for the purpose of maintaining the peace of the world and the settlement of international disputes by the arbitration of the Hague tribunal, which is at this moment settling for the United States and Great Britain their century old dispute over their respective rights in the North Atlantic fisheries. Let us at any rate cherish such uplifting visions and dreams."

MATRIMONIAL

Mr. George William Trot and Miss Mary Ellen Hansbury, both of this city, were married yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock at the parochial residence of the Immaculate Conception church, Rev. John O'Brien, O. M. L., performed the ceremony. Mr. Joseph Bridge of Pennsylvania, a cousin of the bride, was best man, and Miss Helen McNichols of Worcester was bridesmaid.

The bride wore silk tulle, trimmed with Irish point lace, and carried white batiste and carried pink carnations. Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride in Oak street, which was attended by immediate friends and relatives from out of town. Among those present were Mr. John E. Almsworth of London, England, Mr. and Mrs. Budd of Lawrence, Miss Katharine Bridge of Pennsylvania and other friends from New York and Boston.

The wedding gifts were numerous and beautiful, and consisted of silver and cut glass and other articles. Mr. and Mrs. Trot left on an early evening train for an extended wedding tour along the coast to Pennsylvania. Upon their return they will make their home at 10 Oak street.

McLEAN—WALMSLEY

Mr. George Elmer McLean and Miss Frances F. Walmsley, both of Lowell, were married by Rev. George F. Kennigott at his home yesterday afternoon. They were unattended. Mr. and Mrs. McLean will live at Middlesex park.

SARGENT—MORRISON

Mr. Joseph L. Sargent of this city and Miss Mary A. Morrison of Newburyport were married Wednesday afternoon at the home of the bride's grandmother, Mrs. Mary C. Morrison, in Newburyport. Rev. Lawrence Hayward performed the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Sargent will make their home in Tacoma, Wash.

ALLEN—DUNLAVEY

Mr. William H. Allen and Miss Ellen T. Dunlavy were married yesterday afternoon at the parochial residence of St. Patrick's church, Rev. John J. McHugh. The bride was attended by Miss Helen T. Casey and Mr. William H. Sullivan was best man. After the ceremony a reception to the immediate family was held at the home of the bride in Butterfield street and later Mr. and Mrs. Allen left on a wedding trip.

FOSS—HART

A pretty home wedding took place yesterday afternoon when Mr. Jacob Foss and Miss Elizabeth A. Hart were united in marriage at the latter's residence, 16 Varney street. Rev. A. St. John Chambré, pastor of St. Anne's Episcopal church, performed the ceremony in the presence of the immediate family. Miss Gerie M. Hart, a sister of the bride, was maid of honor and Misses Edith and Elizabeth Hart, nieces, were flower girls. Mrs. J. W. Grady played the wedding march. Mr. and Mrs. Foss left on a wedding tour and will live at 16 Varney street on their return. They will be at home after Nov. 1.

REID—WILSON

Mr. James Reid and Mrs. Margaret Wilson were married yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock by Rev. George Wright, at his residence in Ferryview street. Mr. John Reid, a brother of the bridegroom, was best man, and Miss Sadie Chalmers, a sister of the bride, was bridesmaid.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride, at 23 Shaw street, at which were present immediate friends and relatives. Mr. and Mrs. Reid were the recipients of many beautiful and costly gifts. They left on an early evening train for an extended wedding tour, and after their return will make their home at 23 Shaw street.

Personally conducted excursion to the White Mountains July 2nd to 4th. See Leeds, 5 Bridge street.

JOSHUA HOLDEN

Billerica Politician Died in Boston Today

BOSTON, June 23.—Joshua B. Holden, for many years a familiar figure in Massachusetts politics, died suddenly of heart failure at the Hotel Somerset early today. He had been in poor health for some time. He was 60 years of age and a native of Woburn. During his business career Mr. Holden had extensive real estate interests in Boston and Lowell and other places in Middlesex county. Mr. Holden had served in the state senate and was a member of the Charles river basin commission at the time of his death. He is survived by a family.

Mrs. Holden was Miss Ada L. Moulton, daughter of former Senator John Moulton of Laconia, N. H.

THEATRE VOYONS

The governments of the Central American republics give the United States navy more trouble than a little and in "A Central American Romance" shown today at the Theatre Voyons this sort of a squabble is well brought out. In this picture a detachment of sailors from the United States Battleship "South Carolina" appear and rescue an American condemned to death. There is a pleasing love story told by the picture and the staging is correct in every detail. It has been shown in one of the southern republics. "The Beggar Boy" is a Japanese picture of more than ordinary worth and will be received with favor by all. It tells the story of a little Japanese beggar boy and the daughter of a rich merchant and in every way it will come up to the high standard of the recent high class Vitagraph production. There is a laughable comedy and a pleasing musical program included on the bill.

PERIN'S HIPPODROME

Washington park is at last coming into its own and nightly large crowds are entertained by the big and pleasing program offered at the Hippodrome.

Last night there were some new numbers introduced which were not on the bill starting Monday evening. One which deserves special mention is Van Harding, the boy contortionist, who gave a very novel and unique act. The Gennet Trio in funny tumbling and acrobatic work was good. On the program are Huber's trained bears in many feats, and Klutzing's animals consisting of dogs, pigeons, rabbits and cats, who do many cute and difficult tricks. The cat performs one trick that is worthy of special notice. They jump straight up in the air to a swinging basket hanging about eight feet over their heads and catch the same with their paws and pull themselves into it.

De Noto, the eccentric bandmaster, plays many new tunes and the clover are also seen in new and laughable tricks.

The motion pictures at night are changed every two nights and they are also seen in connection with the above big bill.

EMPIRE THEATRE

Roosevelt is at the Empire theatre today. You can see here what a welcome he was given when he came into New York. The whole country was there and it was a grand sight. One that has been well photographed in moving pictures. Netta Kincaid, the singer and whistler also comes today. Her act is one which has been making such a big hit and is sure to do the same here in the Empire. Reynolds and Anderson in their comedy sketch are right there with the fun, and their short stay here promises to get a fine reception.

LAKEVIEW THEATRE

The crowds keep increasing at Lakeview theatre this week and the fact is probably due to the excellent company and the strong play. That Mr. Flynn has used good judgment in selecting his people is seen nightly as the crowds keep growing larger. "The Dairy Farm" that the company is offering this week is a play of New England life and is an exceptionally strong one, full of heart throbs and laughter and replete in human interest and one that has proven to be very popular this week.

Sunday night there will be a program of moving pictures and illustrated songs and for the bill next week Mr. Flynn has selected the humorous farce called "The Other Girl." It is an English comedy, screamingly funny all the way through and is one that is sure to be liked by the patrons of this cozy little playhouse.

THE KIDNAPPERS

Demanded Sum of $8000 for Return of Boy

NEW YORK, June 23.—An air of expectancy pervaded the home of Dr. Mariano Simca today and there was every indication that the anxious father and mother anticipated welcome developments in the search for their three year old son Michael, the sensational kidnapping of whom on Tuesday was followed yesterday by a reported demand by the child's abductors of a substantial sum as a ransom. It had been intimated that the kidnappers asked $5000 for the return of the child, but the Italian physician refused to make public all the contents of the kidnappers' communication and declined to let the police try to trace the writers.

"I can do better by working alone," said the physician, "and I expect to get my boy back today."

It was believed from the attitude of the family early today that a line of communication with the abductors of the boy had been established and that assurances had been received not only of the lad's safety, but of his probable speedy return to his parents.

STANDARD OIL CO.

Wins a Victory in Germany

BERLIN, June 23.—The long and venomous campaign waged by German newspapers and rival industrial interests against one of the German branches of the Standard Oil company—the Deutsche Vacuum Oil company—has just been brought to a victorious end for the Americans involved.

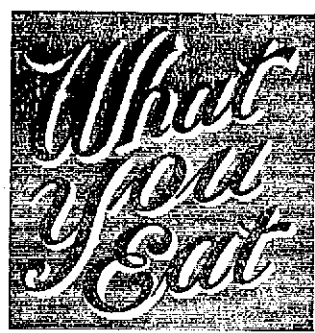

A well known Hamburg newspaper for months printed such a series of attacks on the "American graft methods" alleged to have been practised by the Vacuum company in the conduct of its German business, that the public prosecutor of Hamburg felt constrained to make an official investigation with a view to eventual indictments.

The prosecutor has now concluded his investigation, especially of the work of E. L. Quarles, American manager of the German company's sales department, and announces that no necessity exists for pursuing the inquiry. No evidence of any reprehensible prosecution was found against Mr. Quarles, and the costs of the entire inquiry will be borne by the state. The result of the investigation constitutes a notable triumph for American interests in Germany.

TYNGSBORO MAN WAS BESIDE TAYLOR WHEN HE FELL IN BALTIMORE

Mr. Martin Davis of Tyngsboro and a member of G. A. R. post 120 of this city throws some light on the death of Charles A. Taylor, first to fall in defense of the Union April 19, 1861. Mr. Davis says he was Taylor's marching mate when the latter fell. A couple of policemen came along and told Davis that they would take care of the body. Davis says he first saw Taylor in front of the state house, Boston. Taylor came up behind where he was standing in line and asked if they wanted any more men. The captain told Taylor to "come along" and he went without a uniform. From the talk on the way to Baltimore it was gathered that Taylor was a painter.

NIGHT EDITION

WELCOMED HOME

Reception to Rev. Fr. Nolan, O. M. I., Last Evening

Rev. George I. Nolan, O. M. I., the popular pastor of the Immaculate Conception church who has been in the far south on a mission tour for the past six weeks, returned to Lowell this week and was tendered a welcome home by his parishioners last night that did his heart good. While pastor of the Immaculate Conception for but a few months, he has endeared himself to all and when he announced his departure for the south some weeks ago many entertained grave doubts that on account of his exceptional ability as a pulpit orator that he might be kept on mission and not return as resident pastor and when his home coming was announced a few days ago immediate plans were made to give him a rousing reception which was most successfully carried out in the school hall last evening.

Despite the excessive heat the hall was packed with friends and happiness reigned supreme.

The affair was under the direction of Rev. Fr. O'Brien, O. M. I., who ably officiated as acting pastor in Fr. Nolan's absence, and he opened the exercises in a warm speech of welcome to the pastor on behalf of both clergy and people of the parish.

The evening's program was formally opened by a brief address of welcome by Rev. John O'Brien, O. M. I., in which he took occasion to express the delight of the parishioners in having their pastor back with them again. His address was followed by a beautiful set of devotions. Mr. Quinn spoke as follows:

At this point Mr. Michael Quinn, vice president of the Holy Name society was introduced and in a neat speech he presented Fr. Nolan with a beautiful set of devotions. Mr. Quinn spoke as follows:

Reverend and Dear Fr. Nolan: It was with feelings of genuine regret that we listened some weeks ago to the announcement of your departure from our midst. Though the separation from your beloved flock was destined to be only a brief one, permit us to

WHAT EVERY MOTHER SHOULD KNOW

It seems strange that so many mothers do not know that when children are sick the first thing to do is to "look for worms first."

It is a fact that worms in stomach or bowels is the cause of three out of every four sick spells in children. There are over fifty different kinds of worms that can live in the stomach or bowels and do great harm to health.

If your child is puny, pale, sickly or fretful, follow that wise saying "think of worms first."

Here are some of the many signs by which you may learn that your child has worms. Watch carefully for these symptoms: sunken eyes, pallor around the nose and lips, dimness of eyes, itching of nose, bloated face or abdomen, paleness, swollen lips, offensive breath. Also, choking, swallowing, starting or groaning in sleep, dry cough, bad wetting, milky urine, vomiting. Child may also be cross and peevish.

You may now give the medicine that kills the worms and casts them forever out of the system. It is "Fessenden's Worm Expeller." The price of it is only 25 cents. For this small sum your child's life may be saved.

ALUMNAE PICNIC

AT NOTRE DAME GROUNDS IN TYNGSBORO

The spacious grounds surrounding the Nance O'Neill estate in Tyngsboro were the scene of a very delightful picnic today. The estate is now the property of the Sisters of Notre Dame and the sisters had as their guests today the Notre Dame academy alumnae. The picnicers left Merrimack square at 10 o'clock this forenoon and remained until evening. They were delighted with the house and its surroundings.

If interested, we would be glad to have you inspect our diamonds; no other stock anywhere. Millard F. Neveu, jeweler, 104 Merrimack street, opposite John.

IN POLICE COURT

Hot Session With Long Drawn Out Cases

Apostolos Pappas, who on Monday was found guilty of assault and battery on Pierre Aseneault, sentence being deferred until today, was arraigned before Judge Hadley in police court this morning on a complaint charging him with assault and battery on Ephrem Rondeau, aged 15 years.

Pappas was employed at the Merrimack mills up to a few weeks ago, when he and a number of other foreigners went on strike. Their positions were taken by boys and Rondeau was one of the youngsters who went to work in the mill.

According to Rondeau's testimony, he was going home from work with several other boys a week ago Wednesday noon. They were followed from the Merrimack mill up to the corner of Hall and Coolidge streets by seven of the strikers. Rondeau claims that when he reached the corner of the street one of the strikers struck him and then Pappas kicked him in the back.

He said he was positive that Pappas was the man and said that he knew two of the other men by sight. After he was assaulted he was taken to the Lowell hospital.

Arthur Marcotte, Gagnon and two other witnesses corroborated the testimony offered by Rondeau.

Pappas' defense was similar to that offered in the assault and battery case hearing in court Monday. He claimed that he was not in the vicinity of the Coolidge and Hall streets at the time of the alleged assault and knew nothing at all about it.

The court, after considering the evidence in the case, found Pappas guilty and ordered him to pay a fine of $25. Pappas was also ordered to pay a fine of $20 in the case of assault and battery on Aseneault.

J. Joseph Hennessy appeared for the defendant and the government's case was presented by Major E. J. Noyes.

Another Strike Case

James Pappas, another striker at the Merrimack mills, was brought before

SLUGGISH MARKET

THOUGH OPENING TREND OF PRICES WAS UPWARD

Market Then Receded Below Yesterday's Closing—Price of Wheat Had Upturn—Copper Market Opened Poorly

NEW YORK, June 23.—The opening trend of prices of stocks was upward but the current of the movement was sluggish and only languid interest was manifested in the dealings. American Cotton Seed Oil advanced 2-1/4 and Louisville & Consolidated Gas 1-4.

Selling orders at concessions began to appear in Amal, Copper, St. Paul, U. P., Reading, U. S. Steel, and other active issues, the whole market receding to below yesterday's closing. Amal, Copper gave way a point. Fractional recoveries followed.

The upturn in prices of wheat at the opening of that market weighed on stocks. There was some profit taking following yesterday's rise. The dull and hesitating tone was the consequence. Bonds were firm.

A long period of idleness was followed by another decline in prices, but there was not much stock sold, the market falling away from its own weight.

Trading grew more sluggish and apathetic and there was scarcely any fluctuations beyond the merest fraction.

The market closed easy and dull. The downward drift of prices was renewed. The closing of the half yearly dividend on Minneapolis & St. Louis pld. weakened the Hawley group and affected the general list by sympathy.

DANCING PARTY

TRAINING SCHOOL CLASS MAKES MERRY

The class of 1910, Lowell Training school, conducted a charming dancing party in Lincoln hall Wednesday evening and there was an attendance of about 75 couples, embracing among others members of other classes and friends from Trinity college, Wellesley, Smith, Holy Cross, college, Harvard and Dartmouth. In spite of the hot weather, the party was an indoor affair not quite the thing, the merry party enjoyed the pleasures of a dance order of 12 engagements to music by the Middlesex orchestra. The stage was prettily set off with numerous clusters of candles and roses which were carried by the girls, the faculty of the school and Supl. Whitcomb and Mrs. Whitcomb received the guests. The school board was also represented. The dancing continued until midnight. Mrs. Myrtle Kilpatrick, president, headed the list of the girls in charge, assisted by members of the class and the faculty.

Miss Alice Porter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Potter of 101 Pleasant street, was very pleasantly surprised last evening by a number of young friends upon the occasion of the celebration of her 14th birthday anniversary. The affair was held at the Porter residence, the parlors of which were prettily decorated with Japanese lanterns, greenery and flowers. Miss Porter was presented a handsome locket and chain of unique design.

DEATHS

RILEY—Mrs. Mary Riley, a resident of Centralville and a devout attendant at St. Michael's church, died last night at the residence of Mr. Thomas Mahoney, 120 Coburn street, after a short illness, aged 53 years. She is survived by her husband, Patrick Riley, 782 Moody street, St. Louis, Mo.; two brothers, James and John Gorman, in Ireland. The body was removed to the home of her sister, Mrs. Margaret Gratton, 423 Lakewood avenue, by Undertaker James W. McKenna.

HURLEY—Hannah Hurley, a well known resident of St. Patrick's parish, died this morning at the home of her son, James Hurley, 782 Moody street. She leaves to mourn her loss three sons, James F. of this city, Daniel, John and Michael, all of St. Louis, Mo. She was an old and highly respected member of St. Patrick's parish.

LYON STREET SCHOOL

Held Interesting Exercises at Closing Yesterday

Unique as well as interesting were the graduation exercises held yesterday at the Lyon street primary school. Instead of carrying out the program indoors, the exercises were held in the open air.

One of the features of the training at this school is the fact that it has a government of its own. There is a mayor, a board of aldermen and a head gardener and the interest which the pupils take in their work in their city government is remarkable.

The board of government met about nine o'clock yesterday morning and after a brief business session the graduation exercises were carried out. There are about 200 pupils at the school and shortly after nine o'clock they marched into the yard. Three-fourths of them took up places on the long stone steps while the other members of the graduating class had places about a circular plot of ground in the center.

Each child had a small American flag while the members of the graduating class had a bouquet of bachelor's buttons, the class flower, and every one who was to receive a diploma had tucked on his blouse or her waist a piece of paper on which was printed the class motto, "Do Your Best."

The school itself was decorated with flags and the sight proved to be an imposing one.

The exercises opened with an address of welcome by E. George Pyne, the mayor of the school. His address was in part as follows:

"Teachers, Schoolmates and Friends: As class president I welcome you today. Our class will receive what we have worked so hard to get, our certificates of admission to the grammar school, and we are very happy to have you see us receive them. Next year we will go to another school, but we will never forget the happy days in the Lyon street school. I bid you all a hearty welcome."

Then the second and third grades sang "Little Maid, Pretty Maid," "Hi-awatha" was given by John Sharkey, Concertina Pallato, Grace Shuman, Muriel Rodger, Anna Sharkey, Margaret Garrity, Ellen Cullinan and Marion Maguire. The first grade gave the song, "The Busy Bee," David Macle read "The Tempest," and "Old Black Joe" was sung by John McGrath, with a chorus from the second and third grades. "Robert of Lincoln" was the reading given by Edith Kinney.

The entire school then gave a chorus, "Three Little Sisters," followed by a medley of American airs. During the singing of the latter the little American flags were waved.

Stanley J. Robinson, superintendent of the gardens of the school, was the next speaker and he said:

"As vice president of our class and superintendent of our school garden since Miss Costello left us I cannot leave the Lyon street school without saying at least one word for a teacher who did so much to beautify our school. She gave us plants and she worked with us and we were sorry to have her leave us. I hope she will always consider herself superintendent of the Lyon street school garden and every year come back and help the boys and girls as she helped us. Now the boys of this class have named this part of our garden in front of our school Costello Park. I hope the boys of next year's class will love their garden as do the boys who are leaving today."

Bernard Rellly, aged seven years, was the valedictorian of the class, and he delivered his address in a manner which brought forth considerable applause. He said:

"Teachers, Friends and Schoolmates: The class of 1910 now leaves dear old Lyon street. We have had lots of fun and lots of hard work. We have had fun with our gardens and fun in our sports. I don't think we will ever have such a good time again, for now we are great big boys and girls. But we have all promised our teachers that wherever we go, whatever we may do in work or play, for the credit of our best loved school we will always do our best. Friends, teachers and schoolmates, the class of 1910 says 'Good-bye.'"

Immediately following this address, the third grade sang "Do Your Best."

John H. Pyne of the school board then made a brief address.

Mr. Pyne then presented diplomas to the following: E. George Pyne, president of class and mayor of the school; Raymond Brennan, Frank Chase, Joseph Carrigan, George Carrigan, Thomas Finerol, Henry Graham, George Garrit, Thomas Horgan, Warren Horgan, John McGrath, Joseph McMahon, David Macle, Clifford Marshall, Bernard Rellly, Stanley Robinson, Chester Gordon, Daniel Montgomery, Winnie Boyle, Madeline Casey, Ellen Cullinan, Agnes Finerol, Mary Garry, Ethel Gordon, Mary Garrity, Emily Kerwin, Marion Maguire, Katherine McQuade, Margaret McLean, Mildred McQuade, Julia Neville, George Panto, Concertina Pallato, Florence Parrington, Edith Richardson, Annie Sharkey, Nora Teague, Muriel Rodger, Edith Kinney, Margaret Montgomery, Lizzie Bligson, Alice O'Keefe, Margaret Burns, Kathleen Klerman and Alice Flood.

The class song was rendered by the graduates, after which "Holy God, We Praise Thy Name" was given. Then all the pupils, headed by the mayor of the school, marched out of the yard.

In the afternoon at two o'clock the pupils returned to the school yard to attend an ice cream party given by Miss Annabel Costello, who was unable to be present in the morning.

Yesterday's exercises, together with the city government and the school gardens conducted by the pupils, reflects much credit on Miss Alice T. Lee, who is the principal of the school, and her assistants, Miss Mary J. McCarty, Miss Mary F. Cassidy, Miss Loretta Hanafin and Miss Ellen F. Lynch.

BAIL OF $50,000

To Be Furnished For Keliher

BOSTON, June 23.—William J. Keliher, convicted of aiding and abetting George W. Coleman in looting the National City bank of Cambridge, is anticipating being released from the Charles street jail under a bond of $50,000 on Saturday morning. If not sooner. His friends have obtained the required sureties and it is expected that the bondsmen will qualify before U. S. Dist. Atty. Asa P. French by Saturday morning.

Keliher has found confinement very trying these hot days. The only visitors he has had have been his wife and child, who have visited him twice, and his attorney.

He has become very obstinate and defiant, and but for this fact it is assumed he might have been released some days ago. He has hampered the efforts of his friends, who have been endeavoring to obtain surety for him, by absolutely and definitely refusing to agree to certain demands they made upon him in the matter. He has finally relented and now his friends hope to obtain his release on Saturday morning.

LAWN PARTY

BY SOCIETIES OF ST. JOHN'S EPISCOPAL CHURCH

The spacious grounds of A. E. Moors, at 104 Moore street, were the scene of a lawn party last night by the societies of St. John's Episcopal church. The grounds were decorated with Japanese lanterns and there was a hurdy gurdy music.

The three societies were the Swastika club, the Parish Aid society and the Improvement society.

Nearest the Moors residence was the sandwich table, over which Mrs. Margaret Dunlap, Mrs. C. H. Ingalls, Mrs. M. E. Smith and Mrs. James McGrath presided. Mrs. George F. Parsons had charge of the fancy table and the apron table was under the direction of Mrs. W. B. Robinson.

The candy table, down in the hollow, was a favorite resort. Here Mrs. Eugene J. Smith, Miss Elsie Van Steenburgh, Mary Madole, Jennie Patrick and Stella Gurney. The lemonade booth did a marvelous business. There were several kids on lap and there were frequent trips to it during the evening. The Swastika club members had control there. Miss Annie Cryer was chairman, and her assistants were: Florence Reynolds, Everett Warnock, Harold Webster, Emma Robinson, Elizabeth Robertson, Sidney Hall, Amy Lefevre, Hazel Major and Blanche Gurney.

The improvement society managed the ice cream stall, and it was under the management of Paul Plummer. His assistants were: Mrs. Isaac B. Romaine, Marion Spencer, Charles Howarth and Harry Eriestly. And a very necessary adjunct was the cake table, the management devolving upon Mrs. Frank Pashell, Mrs. Clarence B. Edwards and Mrs. James Regan. The ticket selling was in charge of Mrs. Joseph Wilde. The decorating committee of the party consisted of Chas. Howarth, Gordon Foster, Perry Edwards, Pearl Ingalls and Charles Howarth, Jr. Mrs. W. H. Cloutie was the chief executive of the party and looked after the receipts well. The purpose of the lawn party was to raise funds for the choir during the next year.

NEW QUARTERS

FOR THE CITY MESSENGER OF LYNN

BOSTON, June 23.—City Messenger Leary's new quarters, it is said, will be dedicated at city hall at noon Monday. The oration, according to a program now drawn up, will be delivered by Alvah H. Peters, whom Mr. Leary succeeded in office. A special feature will be vocal numbers by a selected quartet from City Clerk Priest's office force.

An original song, words by Sec. Charles B. Siloway and music by Tim Mooney, entitled "I've the Job Clinched Now," will be sung to a harp accompaniment by City Messenger Leary.

Members of the old city messenger's force, before the new charter abolished the office as a department, will give the guests, after the moving pictures plan, a demonstration of how work was done in the city messenger service under the old charter.

Guests who have a weakness for the weed are requested to bring along their own pipes, as the city messenger has now to work without a department appropriation.

MAYOR'S NIECE

BECOMES THE BRIDE OF JOHN A. KEANE

BOSTON, June 23.—In the presence of a gathering that filled St. Mary's church of the Assumption, Brookline, Miss Mary E. Fitzgerald, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James F. Fitzgerald of Brookline and niece of Mayor Fitzgerald of Boston, became the bride of John Andrew Keane of Somerville yesterday morning. The mayor's daughter, Miss Rose Fitzgerald, was maid of honor. Daniel Keane, brother of the groom, was best man. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Thomas Quinlan of St. Rose church of Chelsea. The bride's gown was white satin with duchess lace and pearl trimmings and ornaments. Her veil was caught up with a spray of orange blossoms and she carried lilies of the valley.

The ushers included Hon. E. Mark Sullivan of Beverly, Dr. James Scanlon of Dorchester, John Hannon of Concord, James F. Tierney of Salem, Dr. John O'Shea of Spokane, Wash., and Fred Lufkin of Gloucester. A reception followed at the home of the bride's parents at 1010 Beacon street.

The groom is a business man and the bride was graduated from Notre Dame academy, Roxbury, in the class of '04.

BOY WAS DEAD

METHUEN, June 23.—Summoned by the incoherent cries of her little son's playmates, Mrs. John Hagie rushed last evening to a sand bank where he had been playing and found the top of it caved in, burying him and two others. A neighbor hurrying to her assistance found the mother digging in the sand with her hands and offered her a shovel. By the time she had uncovered her son, John Hagie, six years old, he was dead. Edward Crowley, seven years old, and Gertrude Crowley, nine years old, narrowly escaped sharing his fate.

HOT ENOUGH FOR YOU? DON'T SHOOT!

The predictions for weather are "continued warm weather." It's easy making forecasts of weather now; just write down on your willing shirt cuff that it's going to be hot—hot as, well, hotter than last summer. While the "continued warm" prevails, continued cool weather will be the order of things in all well appointed kitchens in Lowell, that is in such as are outfitted with gas cooking appliances. Surely no thinking person can continue to suffer needlessly over a coal fire these days. Surely they must admit the merit of the up-to-date Gas Range. Surely they will inform themselves if not already informed, by calling at John Street Appliance store of Lowell Gas Light company. At this store are shown all forms and methods of welcome. You don't have to buy when you leave, if you don't purchase. That's so.

COURT OF APPEAL

WASHINGTON, June 23.—The new U. S. court of customs appeals, created at this session of congress, rendered its first decision yesterday. All the cases decided were appeals from rulings of the general board of appraisers or decisions of the U. S. circuit court of the southern district of New York. The circuit court was reversed in two cases and affirmed in three.

The court met with a full bench. Chief Justice Robert M. Montgomery presiding, with Associate Justices William H. Hunt, James F. Smith, Orion M. Barber and Marion de Vries. The rule of the new court's procedure is much the same as that in the supreme court.

Several cases disposed of were appeals from Chinese merchants in New York. Kwong Yuen Shing imported dried duck flesh, salted, preserved in peanut oil and canned. It is a Chinese dish. He contended it ought to be assessed as dressed poultry. The new court sampled the canned duck, had experts to do so, and affirmed the circuit court's decision that it was far from being in the class of dressed poultry.

Why You Should Drink Hires

Because it is pure, wholesome and clean. Every ingredient is chosen with the sole aim of deserving your confidence.

Because its inventor, a practicing and practical chemist, chose for his formula the best in Nature—believing success deserving only when founded on giving equal value to those whose patronage has made his labors productive.

Because the formula—created in those good old days before chemistry had invented the artificial and the substitute—has never changed a single iota. Hires, the same yesterday, to-day and forevermore.

Because Hires has honestly proven its pre-eminent right to quench your thirst, refresh and do you good, having conferred a like service upon millions of thirsts before yours. Hires aids digestion and relieves indigestion. But it contains no trace of drugs or irritants, such as soap bark, etc.

But don't ask for rootbeer—ask for "Hires" and thus be sure to get the only genuine rootbeer.

WILD RUNAWAY

Nearly Killed Two Children Sitting
on the Curbstone

Tony and Francis Alfano, aged seven and three years, respectively, had a narrow escape from being killed by a runaway horse that passed through Ford street shortly after six o'clock last night.

A RUNAWAY HORSE RUNS OVER AND SERIOUSLY INJURES TWO LITTLE BOYS WHILE SITTING ON THE CURBSTONE.

The children were seated on the curbing at the corner of Austin and Ford streets, in front of their home which is at 76 Ford street. They were enjoying themselves eating cherries when suddenly a horse dashed around the corner from Austin street and headed up Ford street. The horse was attached to a laundry wagon and two of the wheels passed over the bodies of both children.

Passersby who witnessed the accident rushed to the assistance of the children and found that both, though bleeding from wounds, were still conscious. Tony suffered a broken right thigh and right arm and a scalp wound on the head. He was removed to the Lowell hospital in the ambulance. His condition is critical. Francis had three cuts on the head and also had his legs badly bruised.

NATL. FEDERATION

Of Millers Heard J. J. Hill's Paper

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., June 23.—"Wheat" was the subject of discussion at today's meeting of the National Association of Millers. The subject was treated in a paper prepared by James J. Hill, chairman of the board of directors of the Great Northern railroad, and read by C. B. Jenkins of Noblesville, Ind. Mr. Hill was unable to attend the meeting. Other speakers also discussed the subject. Mr. Hill's paper was as follows:

"One fact, it seems to me, should give you more concern than almost any other, because you have already felt its effects and because it looms large and dangerous. This is the pressure upon existing terminal facilities. It is a future menace and a present handicap. You have felt, and will continue to feel, the partial embargo that traffic conditions have placed upon all the business of the country; upon yours perhaps as seriously as any other. The milling interest of the entire country, except where it serves a purely local demand is feeling the pinch of the transportation situation and will in the future feel it more severely. The growth of the country in population, in production, in transportation business, has been marked. There has not been a corresponding growth in the facilities for transportation.

For months past it has been impossible to get freight shipments delivered promptly if these have to be transferred at any of the central markets or principal terminal points. The flood of business that rose to such dangerous height in 1907 is piling up again, with the additions made by national growth since then. The future will add in increasing ratio to these difficulties as well as to the losses they involve. The only probable relief from the pressure upon our transportation agencies, and especially upon terminals, where the greatest difficulty exists, is the decline of our export trade. The demand of the home consumer is lessening the volume of our food stuffs and will effect similarly some other items on the list. But this change will bring relief to the carrier only insofar as export terminals are concerned.

"An enormous volume of new traffic is being developed by the industrial advance of the country between the Mississippi river and the Pacific coast. All of this must seek its market, and much of it will be added to the total that already over-burdens our terminals.

"In the great markets of the eastern end of the country, in New York, Cleveland, Buffalo, Chicago, the crisis has already arrived. Traffic growth and terminal congestion are applying the brakes to business progress. This means trouble for the whole country. It is no more disastrous to have the banks close their doors than to have the railroads choked. The interest which you represent must cuter the other, and therefore it should be taking thought with others for the future. For the same cause will work out the same effects in the west.

"What is the remedy? Of course, there is none cut and dried, complete and effective, for an evil that has been growing for so long a time, and which public action thus far has tended to intensify rather than to diminish. The best that can be done is to offer suggestions for tentative and partial relief and then to engage the best thought and effort for the whole country, especially of business men and associations such as yours, in an effort to lessen the tension that now strangles trade. Where terminals can be enlarged without incurring prohibitive indebtedness, that, of course, is the natural remedy. Existing facilities also may be made more effective.

"Decentralization of traffic terminals offers a partial cure, partially only, however, because it is applicable only to a portion of the business to be done. Some of the through business of the country can be diverted to other points than those where it now collects, but the great central markets cannot be destroyed nor the bulk of their business affected.

"There is, however, a considerable element in our traffic aggregate, which is capable of decentralization. Take your own industry, for example, because both your raw material and your product are bulky and heavy articles, you are, perhaps, more interested than others, since you are most likely to suffer from terminal congestion. It is worth while to consider whether a considerable share of your distributing business could be readjusted. If orders went direct to the mills from the smaller cities and towns, and shipments were made direct to them, instead of being consigned to central agencies, and thence transferred to buyers, it would make less business for terminals. By such a process of decentralization, adopted by business generally, much relief might be obtained.

The problem of terminals is the greatest problem of the country, the problem of transportation agencies, of financiers, of the communities directly affected and of all the industries that depend, directly or indirectly, upon cheap and speedy carriage for the commodities which they buy and sell. It is a problem for everybody, since probably not one business man in the whole country would fail to feel the disastrous effects if it were to be neglected for the next five years as it has for the last ten, and to blight every form of activity by paralyzing the whole trade.

MORAN-ATTELL BOUT
LOS ANGELES, Cal., June 23.—While there is no likelihood of interference with the Moran-Attell fight Friday night, steps are now being taken to prevent all ring encounters in the future by high license. Attorney Newby of the Civic Righteousness committee of the Church Federation addressed a communication to the city council today urging that body to "strike while anti-prize fight sentiment is at flood" and pass an ordinance regulating contests so stringently that they will be too unprofitable to engage in.

"FINGY" CONNERS

Says Democrats Will Elect the Next President

BOSTON, June 23.—William J. (Fingy) Connors, the Buffalo, N. Y., millionaire politician and publisher, visited Boston yesterday, called upon Mayor Fitzgerald and made a few political predictions.

He declared among other things that the next president will be a democrat, and that if Gov. Harmon of Ohio is re-elected he will "look pretty good" as far as the democratic nomination for president is concerned.

He asserted that the republicans in New York did not necessarily mean anything politically and cited the receptions given Dewey, Bryan, and the man who got the five cent fare bill through the New York legislature in that city to prove his contention.

He laughingly said when asked to make a prediction as to Roosevelt's future, "If any man is going to make a prediction about Roosevelt, it won't be me."

Mr. Connors arrived in Boston harbor on his steam yacht the Mary Alice shortly after noon yesterday.

With Mrs. Connors, their daughter Ruth, and Mr. Connors' sister-in-law, Miss Margaret Gordon, on board, the yacht is making the trip from New York to Buffalo via the Great Lakes.

The vessel was brought into Boston for minor repairs to machinery.

As soon as the yacht dropped anchor in the stream Mr. Connors went ashore and made his way to city hall.

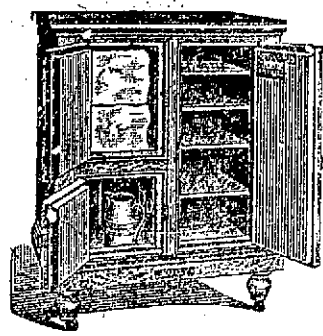

There he had about three-fourths of an hour chat with the mayor, whom he first met several years ago.

In the mayor's office he met the city hall reporters and politics immediately became the subject of discussion.

In reply to questions he said: "We will elect a democratic governor in New York this fall, just as sure as you are born."

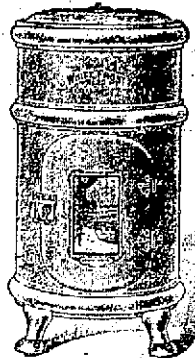

Asked who he thought would get the democratic nomination in the next presidential campaign, he said: "I see Harmon is on top again in Ohio. It

JOHN CLAFIN, HEAD OF DRY GOODS TRUST, WHO IS CONSOLIDATING MANY STORES

JOHN CLAFIN

NEW YORK, June 23.—The United Dry Goods syndicate is fast becoming one of the big trusts of the United States. Headed by John Clafin, head of H. B. Clafin & Co., the trust has purchased Lord & Taylor of New York city. J. P. Morgan started the dry goods trust and has backed Clafin until today he controls not only many of the leading department stores of the country, but has secured control of many smaller stores throughout the country. The United Dry Goods Co., incorporated in Delaware, obtained control of the Associated Merchants Co., which already had acquired interests in many dry goods stores. The interests now under one head are H. B. Clafin & Co., James McCreary & Co., in both 23rd and 34th streets, C. C. Gunther & Co., O'Neill-Adams Co. of New York, Stewart & Co., formerly Posner Bros. of Baltimore, and J. N. Adams & Co. of Buffalo. Other stores which were purchased outright include those of Hahne & Co. of Newark, N. J., Powers Mercantile Co. of Minneapolis, Minn., Wm. H. Henegener Co. of Buffalo, and Stewart Dry Goods Co. of Louisville.

he should be re-elected, he certainly will look good to me for the head of the ticket."

Speaking of Boston, he said: "It looks like a pretty lively place, sort of looks as if you are doing things here. I like Boston."

He alluded to Mayor Fitzgerald as a "pretty bright, snappy, clean-cut fellow."

A Simple Cure for Hair Troubles

There are no better things known for treating the hair and scalp than Refined Soap, White of Eggs, Glycerin, Coughin, Coconut Oil and Salicylic Acid. The soap cleanses the scalp of dirt. The Coconut Oil helps to make a lather and gives a beautiful gloss to the hair. The White of Eggs loosens dandruff and scales up the scalp. Glycerin soothes and heals because of its emollient properties. Salicylic Acid is a destroyer of germs and bacteria and is an antiseptic that prevents disagreeable odors. Ruff's Head Wash is made of all the above ingredients. It is a new scientific preparation that keeps the pores of the scalp open so the hair follicles can secure proper nourishment. Tubes 25c, jars 50c.

YOUNG SAILORS

ARE ON THEIR SUMMER PRACTICE CRUISE

PLYMOUTH, Eng., June 23.—The American battleships Indiana, Massachusetts and Iowa with 50 midshipmen from the United States naval academy at Annapolis, Md., arrived here today. The young sailors are having their summer practice cruise. The squadron is commanded by Rear Admiral Clark. The squadron sailed from Hampton Roads on June 2. The men from the United States naval academy during what was for most of them their first trip across the Atlantic. One shipman on the battleship Iowa suffered from an interior fever and though he was practically convalescent upon his arrival here was removed to the naval hospital at St. George's. The local authorities are planning a round of entertainments for the visitors. The midshipmen will be guests at a dinner by the lord mayor of London.

COURT OF ARBITRAL JUSTICE

LONDON, June 23.—The international conference of chambers of commerce shelved until the next meeting the resolution recommending the establishment of a court of arbitral justice as proposed to the powers by Mr. Knox, American secretary of state.

The resolution was introduced yesterday by Frank Lalane of Philadelphia on behalf of the national board of trade of the United States of which he is the president. Its discussion today developed a considerable diversity of feeling with the result that it was finally referred to a permanent committee on resolutions for presentation at the congress to be held in Boston in 1912.

EDINBURGH, June 23.—The Rev. James Barton, the chairman of the committee, today presented the report of the committee on the "Home base of missions" at the world missionary conference. The sessions continue to be well attended, as many as can be accommodated at the meeting places being drawn from the city and nearby points to swell the crowd of delegates.

AN EXPLOSION

On Board the Steam Yacht Columbia

CHICAGO, June 23.—One man was probably fatally burned, another suffered severe injuries and fifteen passengers, several of them women, narrowly escaped with their lives in an explosion and fire on board the steam yacht Columbia as the boat reached the docks near the Columbia Yacht club at the foot of Randolph street last night. The 50-foot boat was swept by a sheet of flame following the explosion of the gasoline tank.

CORNELL GETS ESTATE

ITHACA, N. Y., June 23.—Cornell university will receive the majority part of the estate, estimated at nearly $1,000,000, of Goldwin Smith, who was prominently identified with the early history of the university. Professor Smith died recently at his home in Toronto after an illness of many months. Announcement of the bequest was made by President Jacob Gould Schurman to the alumni association yesterday. Its value will not be known until the executors file the petition for probate next week.

SOCIAL AND FRATERNAL

A well attended meeting of Mt. Zion lodge I. O. O. F. was held last night. One candidate was admitted to membership and one proposition was received. The mood of the order program was in charge of Sister Norris. There were readings and remarks by many of the visiting members, who included guests from Spindle City and other lodges. Refreshments were served.

Women's Relief Corps

The regular meeting of B. F. Butler, Women's Relief Corps, was held in Memorial hall last night. There was a large attendance and considerable business was transacted during the evening. A complimentary supper was given to those who assisted in the ceremonies in the observance of Flag day. Among the guests in attendance were Rufus Atwood of Company M, Ninth Infantry, who acted as drill master of those who took part in the flag drill, David E. Spaulding and John Axon. With them were the ten men from Company M, who took part in the drill, together with the large number of young women who also had a share in the entertainment. Another guest was Miss Sophia Baker, who wrote for and read at the Flag Day exercises a poem entitled "Our Country's Flag." Miss Baker was prevailed upon to repeat the reading of her poem last night, during the informal entertainment which followed the supper.

The committee in charge of the affair was Mrs. Catherine Gott, Mrs. Eliza Goodwin and Mrs. E. A. Williams, the patriotic instructor of the corps.

INJURIES FATAL

NEW YORK, June 23.—Gregory Dancy, a Staten Island policeman, died last night in a hospital from injuries he received two weeks ago when he was struck in the abdomen by a pitched baseball.
